Generals Seize Viet Nam Reins

Saigon (UPI) — Military chiefs seized power in South Viet Nam Saturday after serving notice on civilian leaders they no longer had confidence in this embattled nation's politicians.

The notice was served Chief of State Phan Khac Suu, Premier Phan Huy Quat and the national legislature.

An official government spokesman said the military decision to oust all civilians from government came after a day-long meeting of the nation's 14 most powerful generals at the Vietnamese defense ministry.

Shortly before the takeover was announced, a government spokesman said Quat and his cabinet had resigned and had decided to "hand back the reins of government to the military."

Late Friday night, the generals sumoned all the civilian leaders to the palace of the chief of state and told them that as of 6 a.m. local time Saturday the reins of government would again be in military hands.

Quat's government was the eighth to fall since Nov. 1, 1963, when the military overthrew the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem. Since that time there have been at least five coups or countercoups.

Official sources said, however, that the military leaders would likely request Quat and his cabinet to act as a caretaker government until a military regime could be formed.

The move climaxed a smoldering government crisis that was touched off by a constitutional dispute over Quat's recent cabinet reshuffle, and aggravated by a Roman Catholic-led anti-government protest movement.

Well-informed sources said the "final straw" that forced the military move was a planned demonstration of some 10,000 Catholic youths who were scheduled to converge on Suu's palace at dawn Saturday.

Household Goods Tax Exemption Ban Moves

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Friday advanced from its first floor test a bill which would abolish the current $200 exemption on household goods for property tax purposes.

Vote on the measure, LB850, was 24-5, with Sens. Edward Danner, Pat Moulton and Harold Moylan, all of Omaha, and Sens. Frank Nelson of O'Neill and Elmer Wallwey of Emerson casting the dissenting ballots.

Revenue Committee Chairman Jules Burbach of Crofton said the bill would raise an additional $1.6 million in revenue, including $250,000 annually for the state.

Sen. Lester Harsh of Bartley attempted to amend the proposal to abolish the tax on household goods as of Jan. 1, 1967, but his amendment was shouted down.

Inspection Asked

Harsh said he will later propose an amendment which would require county assessors to inspect not less than five per cent of the household goods tax schedules in each county.

The levy is "the most poorly administered tax" in the state, he argued.

Burbach said that since the Legislature had previously decided not to abolish the tax, it should remove the $200 exemption so as to raise more revenue and permit the tax to operate more equitably.

In other action, the lawmakers killed on a 14-13 vote a bill which would have prohibited the conveyance in motor vehicles of opened, unsealed or partially consumed containers of alcoholic liquor, unless it was located in the trunk.

Sen. Hal Bauer of Lincoln offered the kill motion.

Safety Measure

The measure, LB765, was sponsored by Sen. Ramey Whitney of Chappell, who argued that the bill would serve as a traffic safety measure and discourage littering of highways with cans and bottles.

Opponents of the bill contended that it could not be adequately enforced.

Among other bills advanced from general file:

LB909—Providing that benefits received under the federal anti-poverty program shall not be considered in determining eligibility for welfare benefits.

LB908—Providing for establishment of depreciation funds from patient or other revenue income or indigent hospitals, homes for aged or infirm, community hospital or local hospital district.

LB910—Appropriating funds to pay the salaries of constitutional officers during the next biennium.

LB902—Authorizing school districts to acquire title outside the school district to property for laboratory, recreation, camping or educational facilities.

LB662—Increasing the salary of the Lancaster County election commissioner from $4,600 to $5,000 per year; of the deputy, from $3,600 to $4,000.

LB524—Enacting a state documentary stamp tax on real estate conveyances, at the rate of 55 cents per $500, to take effect when the federal government abandons this tax.

LB593—Creating a Nebraska arts council—without state appropriations—to encourage cultural resource development in the state.

Car Crash Kills One, Injures 15

Elm Creek, (AP)—One woman was killed and 15 other persons were injured Friday in the collision of a station wagon and an automobile one half mile west of the Elm Creek intersection of U.S. 183 and U.S. 30.

Safety Patrol trooper Robert G. Rhodes said the victim was Mrs. Dorothy Harkness, 38, of Sedro Wooly, Wash.

Eight other persons riding in the station wagon with her were injured. They included her husband, Harold; Mike and Patricia Dills, her children by a previous marriage, who were treated at a hospital and released; Richard, Terry and Brenda Harkness, and Dorothy Shields, a relative, all of who were held in the hospital. The extent of their injuries was not immediately determined. The party was returning from a visit to North Carolina.

In the passenger car were a group of seven Lexington residents: Clara Tinsman, 61, the driver; her husband, Howard; the Rev. Edna Manholter; Connie Gamble, 15; Leon Woods, 15; Joan Millikan, 16; and Ann Millikan, 13. Leon Woods and Connie Gamble were released from the hospital. The others were held there.

Chicago Police Arrest 200 In School Protest Sit-Down

Chicago (AP)—Police broke up a road-clogging school protest march Friday and arrested nearly 200 men, women and children

An estimated 300 demonstrators began the 2½-mile trek from Soldier Field to City Hall After a dispute with the police, the marchers suddenly staged a sit-down in the middle of the roadway.

Within minutes, most of them had been bundled into bus-size police vans and whisked to police stations. Officials later said about 200 protestors had been arrested.

Hours later the marchers were allowed to post bond.

The marches were staged in conjunction with a proposed two-day boycott of the city's public school system which met with indifferent success after a court enjoined its leaders from carrying out the stayaway.

Boycott and marches were designed to bring pressure on Mayor Richard J. Daley to get rid of his school superintendent, Benjamin C. Willis, 63. Some civil rights actionists accuse Willis of not moving swiftly enough in a racial integration plan for the schools.

Daley, who first had set Monday for a conference with protest leaders, shifted the appointment time to Friday afternoon. But he warned them that marchers must not block the city's heavy downtown traffic.

The showdown came as the parade turned from Columbus Drive in Grant Park onto Balbo Drive and headed for busy Michivan Avenue Some 15 motorcycle policemen and about 50 other officers took stations to channel the marchers into a single traffic lane.

Seven Abreast

They had been marching seven abreast in two lanes.

The police maneuver brought an immediate order by Al Raby, marshal of the parade, directing the marchers to sit down.

Police moved swiftly after that.

Those arrested included James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE); Raby, an English teacher in the Chicago schools; Syd Finley, a field director for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), and Dick Gregory, a comedian who has been active in Negro protest demonstrations in a number of cities.

12 Drown As Wall Of Water Roars Through Texas Town

Sanderson, Tex. (AP)—A cloudburst sent a 15-foot wall of water surging through this far west Texas town Friday, drowning at least a dozen residents and leaving 450 homeless.

At least 16 persons were still missing Friday night. Twenty others were treated for injuries.

Fourteen bodies were found in the flood debris but two later were identified as corpses that had been washed out of graves in a nearby cemetery by the raging floodwaters.

All Of Sanderson

All of the dead were Sanderson residents. Six were members of one family, living in a motel in the middle of Sanderson Canyon. They were Ethel Johnson, 31; David Johnson, 14; Lou Ann Johnson, 10; Jo Ann Johnson, 9; Rose Ann Johnson, 8, and Paul Daniels Johnson, 5. Two other members of the Johnson family were among the missing

The other dead were identified as Jerry Sellers, 6, Frankie Sellers, 3; Debra Sellers, 5; George Wood, 75; Ricardo Falcon, 5, and Elidia Barrera, about 35.

Between 50 to 75 houses and all businesses on the south side of U.S. 90, the main street in Sanderson, were destroyed when the wall of water roared through the town shortly before 7 a.m. Nine inches of rain had fallen during the night.

The water ripped out hundreds of feet of railroad track, overturned boxcars, and piled debris 8 feet high against the depot. Automobiles were twisted into mangled chunks of metal and debris—ranging from clothing to household appliances—was piled high in the streets.

Rescue workers said a mother, whose children were swept away by the flood, was still in shock late Friday. A small boy who suffered shock and cuts about the face repeatedly asked how he would pay his doctor bill, as he was being treated for his injuries.

Between 250 and 400 persons were being evacuated late Friday to Fort Stockton, 64 miles away. The highway to Fort Stockton was the only one open to traffic. Earlier in the day, no one could approach closer than 12 miles because of floodwaters and washed-out bridges.

Rains during the morning prevented helicopters from flying in medical supplies, doctors and food until early afternoon. By nightfall, approximately 1,600 persons—70% of the town's population—had been given typhoid shots.

A temporary morgue was set up in an auto garage, and the Red Cross set up a disaster center in a school.

Only one telephone line into the town had been restored late Friday. Earlier communications came largely from limited radio facilities.

Two trains, carrying a total of 500 passengers, were stalled because of washed-out bridges. One of the trains was able to back out of the flood area, but the other was not able to back out until repairs to washed-out tracks were made during the afternoon.

Sanderson is a railroad center of 2,350 persons about midway between El Paso and San Antonio and about 20 miles from the Mexican frontier.

Regents Set Formal Policy:

Student Groups At NU May Not Pick Members On Race Or Color

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

"Membership in student organizations at the University of Nebraska must be based on criteria which will not include race or color," according to a statement issued Friday by the Board of Regents.

The non-discriminatory statement was the first formal policy approved by the Regents pertaining to selection of students for membership in student groups.

However, Dean Robert Ross emphasized, the statement was not a change in institutional policy but merely a move to define and clarify the University position formally.

Recently the Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Council submitted statements relating to equal opportunity for all students which were accepted by the board.

Implementation Set

The Regents authorized Ross, the vice chancellor for student affairs, to implement the policy statements "by obtaining from each national fraternity information regarding discriminatory requirements, statements, clauses rituals or practices and by continuing to work with NU students in the fraternity for the elimination of any remaining discriminatory practices and attitudes."

The Interfraternity and Panhellenic Councils, after a study of campus practices and records, indicated the "need for clarification and restatement of institutional policy in the area of racial discrimination," Ross said.

'Reasonable Criteria' OK

In their statement the regents also reaffirmed that "membership selection for student groups based on reasonable criteria shall remain the responsibility of individual groups."

Officers and advisers of recognized students groups at the University will be required to "indicate immediately their ability and desire to select members" on the basis of the Regents policy pronouncement, according to the statement.

Taken In Kansas City After Phoning Officers

Kansas City, Mo. (UPI)—Duane Earl Pope, the clean-cut Kansas farm youth charged with staging the bloodiest bank robbery in modern times, meekly surrendered to police Friday because he said he was "tired of running."

It was exactly a week after three persons were killed and a fourth wounded in the $1,598 holdup at the Farmers State Bank in Big Springs, Neb.

Pope, hunted throughout the nation in that week, fled to Kansas City from Las Vegas, Nev , checked into the downtown State Hotel and telephoned the college president who handed him his degree only 13 days ago.

The president Dr D. W Bittinger of McPherson (Kan.) College, said he talked the youth into surrendering

'Come And Get Me'

Pope, 22, called police about 15 minutes later and said "come and get me"

Detectives swarmed into the hotel and Pope stepped into a hall from his fifth floor room and said, "Here I am"

Dressed in dark green trousers and a mustard-colored sport shirt, Pope was whisked away to police headquarters for questioning and then transferred to the Federal Building for arraignment on a charge of bank robbery

U.S. Commissioner Lee Cisel set bond at $100,000 and the handcuffed Pope was taken to an 11th floor cell in the Jackson County penthouse jail atop the courthouse, six blocks away.

Pope had been placed on the FBI's list of "ten most wanted fugitives" earlier in the day. They suspect him of being the young bandit who robbed the Big Springs bank and shooting the bank president, his nephew, cashier nad teller as they lay on the floor All except the nephew died

Karl Dissly, FBI agent in charge, said that to his knowledge Pope was not armed when he gave himself up. Dissly siad Pope had been in Wichita, Kan . before going to Las Vegas but did not know if he had made other stops.

Nationwide Appeal

Bittinger made a nationwide appeal for Pope to surrender. UPI reporter Robert Hoig of Omaha, Neb , called Bittinger, who said he had considered such an appeal. It was widely printed and broadcast and Bittinger said Pope told him he heard the plea and decided to surrender.

Charles Cattamach, manager of the hotel, said Pope must have used a pay telephone in the lobby to call police and then returned to his room.

"He had to use the pay telephone because we don't let guests call the police department from their rooms," Cattamach said.

Pope, his close-cropped hair neatly combed, appeared tired. The only luggage he carried was a brown leather briefcase. Dissly declined to say how much money Pope had when arrested but a police detective said it was $40.

A policeman said Pope "became quite emotional and began weeping" when he was placed in the police car outside the hotel. He regained his composure and appeared clam but solemn-faced at his arraignment.

Football Player

A defensive end who was co-captain of the McPherson football team and doubled as a clarinet player in the band. Pope must face preliminary hearing June 25 in Kansas City on the robbery charge.

He also faces three murder charges in Nebraska. Dissly said, "I imagine that federal charges will be taken care of first"

U.S. Atty. F. Russell Millin said the death penalty could be assessed in a bank robbery case where murder or kidnaping is committed in the process.

Pope could be tried in Kansas City or Nebraska on the robbery charge, Millin said, or he could be turned over to Nebraska authorities for trial on the three murder charges.

Bank president Andy Kjeldgaard, 77; cashier Glenn Hendrickson, 60, and Mrs. Lois Ann Hothan, 35, a teller were slain in the holdup. Franklin Kjeldgaard, 25, nephew of the president, was gravely wounded. It was from a Denver hospital bed that the nephew identified a picture of Pope that set off the nationwide search.

Neatly Dressed

A young man in a 1965 green car drove into Big Springs about 11·15 a.m. a week ago Friday. Neatly dressed in a dark business suit, white shirt and striped tie, the bandit took the money from Mrs. Hothan and ordered everyone to lie face down on the floor behind the counter.

Then he proceeded to kill them.

The robber sped north out of town and eluded a network of roadblocks. Heavy rains hampered the chase and prevented airplanes from converging in the area.

Pope spent Friday night in in a Salina motel and before Friday his last positively known appearance was early the next morning.

Pope's appeared in Salina early Saturday. The FBI put out an alert for his conspicuous 1939 Buick convertible and it was found abandoned in Wichita, Kan., Tuesday.

'Fine Decision'

Bittinger, who along with almost everyone on the liberal arts college campus, express shock when Pope was charged Monday, said he told Pope his decision was "very fine," when Pope called him and informed him of his surrender plans.

Mrs. Earl Pope, mother of the suspect and seven other children, said she was "relieved and very happy" that her son had surrendered.

"We're sure he didn't do it," Mrs. Pope said. "We believe he's innocent. He's sick or somebody gave him something"

Between 50 to 75 houses and all businesses on the south side of U.S. 90, the main street in Sanderson, were destroyed when the wall of water roared through the town shortly before 7 a.m. Nine inches of rain had fallen during the night.

The water ripped out hundreds of feet of railroad track, overturned boxcars, and piled debris 8 feet high against the depot. Automobiles were twisted into mangled chunks of metal and debris—ranging from clothing to household appliances—was piled high in the streets.

Rescue workers said a mother, whose children were swept away by the flood, was still in shock late Friday. A small boy who suffered shock and cuts about the face repeatedly asked how he would pay his doctor bill, as he was being treated for his injuries.

Between 250 and 400 persons were being evacuated late Friday to Fort Stockton, 64 miles away. The highway to Fort Stockton was the only one open to traffic. Earlier in the day, no one could approach closer than 12 miles because of floodwaters and washed-out bridges.

Rains during the morning prevented helicopters from flying in medical supplies, doctors and food until early afternoon. By nightfall, approximately 1,600 persons—70% of the town's population—had been given typhoid shots.

A temporary morgue was set up in an auto garage, and the Red Cross set up a disaster center in a school.

Only one telephone line into the town had been restored late Friday. Earlier communications came largely from limited radio facilities.

Two trains, carrying a total of 500 passengers, were stalled because of washed-out bridges. One of the trains was able to back out of the flood area, but the other was not able to back out until repairs to washed-out tracks were made during the afternoon.

Sanderson is a railroad center of 2,350 persons about midway between El Paso and San Antonio and about 20 miles from the Mexican frontier.

Regents Set Formal Policy:

Student Groups At NU May Not Pick Members On Race Or Color

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

"Membership in student organizations at the University of Nebraska must be based on criteria which will not include race or color," according to a statement issued Friday by the Board of Regents.

The non-discriminatory statement was the first formal policy approved by the Regents pertaining to selection of students for membership in student groups.

However, Dean Robert Ross emphasized, the statement was not a change in institutional policy but merely a move to define and clarify the University position formally.

Recently the Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Council submitted statements relating to equal opportunity for all students which were accepted by the board.

Implementation Set

The Regents authorized Ross, the vice chancellor for student affairs, to implement the policy statements "by obtaining from each national fraternity information regarding discriminatory requirements, statements, clauses rituals or practices and by continuing to work with NU students in the fraternity for the elimination of any remaining discriminatory practices and attitudes."

The Interfraternity and Panhellenic Councils, after a study of campus practices and records, indicated the "need for clarification and restatement of institutional policy in the area of racial discrimination," Ross said.

'Reasonable Criteria' OK

In their statement the regents also reaffirmed that "membership selection for student groups based on reasonable criteria shall remain the responsibility of individual groups."

Officers and advisers of recognized students groups at the University will be required to "indicate immediately their ability and desire to select members" on the basis of the Regents policy pronouncement, according to the statement.

Chalk Bed Eyed

Paris (AP)—A study group probing feasibilities of the proposed traffic link under the English Channel between Britain and France reports the route could follow a chalk bed all the way. Pending further tests to be completed in the fall, the choice appeared to be between a tunnel bored in the chalk formation or a submerged tube resting on it.

Reds Hunted In Dense Jungle

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—Vietnamese paratroopers pushed through dense jungle Friday, seeking a Viet Cong force that devastated the town of Dong Xoai and its American Special Forces camp.

The 52nd Vietnamese Ranger Battalion, which suffered heavy casualties in pushing the Communists out of the community 60 miles north of Saigon, remained behind, handling the many dead and wounded—soldier and civilian, adult and child.

Three Americans were known dead, with 15 missing and another 15 wounded, U.S. military authorities announced.

All of the 11 U.S. Army Special Forces men and 9 U.S. Navy Seabees who had been at a camp adjoining Dong Xoai were listed as dead, wounded or missing. In addition, eight crewmen of two U.S. helicopters destroyed while bringing reinforcements to the battle zone were listed as missing. The other five on the casualty list were believed to be U.S. advisers who came in with the Vietnamese reinforcements.

8 Die In Crash

Another eight Americans — two Air Force and six Army men—were killed when a C123 transport crashed in flames in central Viet Nam. The plane was ferrying ammunition, fuel and supplies from Nha Trang to Pleiku. Cause of the crash was not yet known Vietnamese authorities said about 150 civilians were killed at Dong Xoai, including women and children. They listed 108 soldiers killed, 126 missing and 46 wounded.

The Vietnamese also claimed that 300 Viet Cong were killed in Dong Xoai and another 400 by U S and Vietnamese air strikes three to four miles north of the town. These figures were not confirmed by U S authorities

Human Shields

Rangers who fought their way into the town found the bodies of eight Vietnamese soldiers with their hands tied behind their backs with wire. They apparently had been used as human shields in one of the Viet Cong attacks.

Associated Press photographer Horst Faas, who reached the town during the peak of battle, said that during the most desperate hours the wounded who could hold weapons were given rifles and placed so they could face the Viet Cong.

Those too badly hurt to fire were given a grenade with the firing pin pulled. Faas said the wounded men were told if they were overrun they could release their grip on the grenade and try to take some Viet Cong with them as they died

2 Americans In Shock

Faas said two wounded Americans, clothed in rags and chattering from shock, ran out of the jungle when the Vietnamese rangers arrived. They had been in the Special Forces camp when it was smashed in the first Viet Cong attack. One was Lt. (j.g.) Frank Peterlin of Oglesby, Ill., who had been in charge of the Seabee detachment.

Some of the rangers were raw recruits who went into shock at the first taste of battle. With tears running down their cheeks they asked to be taken out. Their officers bucked them up and helped them face the enemy.

Meanwhile, American warplanes struck targets in North Viet Nam again, but on a lighter scale than Thursday.

Taylor Sees 2 Months Of Hard Fights

Washington (AP) — Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor wound up a week's Viet Nam strategy review here Friday and predicted "some hard fighting ahead in the next two months."

On the political side, administration officials portrayed the new military takeover of the Saigon government as a minor upheaval, compared with past coups. They indicated the change would not slacken the war effort.

Taylor planned to depart for South Viet Nam Saturday. He declined to hurry his takeoff because of either the Saigon political shakeup or the news of fresh Viet Cong onslaughts as the Reds mount their monsoon season offensive.

"The time for battlefield resolution is now upon us, but not in a final sense, of course," Taylor commented.

Review Improvements

The former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff spoke to newsmen at the White House after a National Security Council meeting with President Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other top officials. They reviewed measures to improve the large-scale U S. effort against Red attackers in Southeast Asia.

Administration officials said the Red guerrillas apparently intend to strike hard during the coming rainy season which hampers U.S. air strikes. They predicted victory for the South Viet Nam government forces in the long run.

The officials said that despite initial reports of heavy government casualties in two major engagements over the past two weeks. Later information indicates that the Viet Cong suffered twice as many killed as government troops.

Logistically Weak

The officials said the Communist guerrillas apparently intend to strike in an effort to damage Vietnamese government morale and put pressure on the United States. But they said the guerrillas are weak in back-up support and supplies, and thus are unlikely to establish a long-term hold on any main position in South Viet Nam.

Taylor made plain that he expects much more will have to be done even if the U.S.-aided Saigon government successfully repulses the current monsoon season Red offensive.

As of now he sees no need for a further big buildup in U.S. forces on the scene. However, "I am not prepared to predict what the future may require," he said.

Selassie To Attend

Addis Ababa (AP)—Ethiopia's Emperor Haile Selassie will attend the African-Asian conference opening June 29 in Algiers, the information ministry announced.

JUANITA CASTRO

Overthrow Plans Told By Juanita

Washington (AP) — High-placed Cuban government officials are plotting actively to overthrow the Castro regime, Juanita Castro, sister of the Cuban prime minister, told a House subcommittee Friday.

Riots against the government have broken out in many parts of the island although news of them has been suppressed, Fidel's younger sister said in offering her personal testimony about the Castro Communist government.

Miss Castro, a trim, auburn-haired woman of 32, spoke in measured tones as she told the group that if her brother still had Russian offensive missiles he wouldn't hesitate to use them against the United States.

"I don't think the fact that there would be a nuclear war would worry Fidel at all," she added.

What if Americans were killed?

"That would be the best gift he could receive in his life," she said.

She got a friendly reception from the three-man subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee headed by Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La.

The large caucus room of the House's Cannon Office Building was filled almost to capacity by orderly spectators, and there was neither a beard nor a shaggy mane in sight.

SPACEMEN . . . White, left, McDivitt tell about thrills of 4-day flight

Astronauts Tell Of Lights, Tokens

Houston, Tex (AP) — America's keen-eyed space heroes told the world Friday of seeing the street lights of earth, of glowing mysteries in the sky — and of a wonderland walk in the heavens carrying three sacred tokens

Command pilot James McDivitt and pilot Edward White —spicing their tale with friendly banter — both said they could have remained in space another day. They were up four days.

White, the man who waltzed in space for some 20 minutes, said he had three sacred objects in his right hand lower pocket for the whole flight — a St Christopher's medal, a golden cross, and a Star of David

White is a Methodist, McDivitt a Roman Catholic.

"I had a great faith in the people who put me there," said White. "Also I had a great faith in my own God . . . I couldn't take (a token) for each religion in the country, but I took the three I was most familiar with. I think this is probably the most important thing I had going for me."

The entire news conference was broadcast and telecast across the nation.

The major thing he felt when stepping from the spacecraft, White said, was "a feeling of accomplishment "

White said he knew before he left the spacecraft that his conversation during his walk would be broadcast to the entire United States

"Prior to going out I thought, "What do you say to 194 million people when you're looking down on them from space?' " White said. "And this flashed through my head as I got out . . . and the solution became very obvious said, 'They don't want me to talk to them up here. They want to hear what we're doing up here . . . (Jim) was giving me certain words of wisdom, things I should be looking for . . ."

McDivitt interrupted him to say, "I don't think that was wisdom I was giving you."

White was surprised at how he could see with the unaided eye.

"I could see much greater detail than I could from an aircraft flying at 40,000 feet . . . You could see the outlines of cities, roads You could see the wakes of ships at sea . . At night I was impressed with the clarity of lights outlining cities . . . One, I believe it was Sidney (Australia), it was very clear. It looked like a fine string of lights — a fine spider web of lights."

Go-Ahead For 7 Days Given

Houston (AP)—U S. astronauts got a green light Friday from medical authorities for a planned seven day flight into space and flight surgeon Charles Berry said he saw no obstacles for a 14-day mission.

"I don't advocate jumping to 14 days next," Berry told a news conference, "but after looking at preliminary data from James McDivitt and Edward White, I would say the outlook was very bright "

Berry said some problems must be overcome, the biggest being the work-sleep cycle of four days' work and four hours' sleep.

"We need to give the man more rest," he said, "at least six hours."

LBJ Gives Astronauts Promotions

Houston, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson greeted and promoted the men who set new "firsts" in space Friday and declared that "the race in this generation in which we are determined to be first is the race for peace in the world."

Johnson flew from Washington to Houston and visited the Manned Flight Space Center which ran the epochal Gemini 4 space flight of astronauts James McDivitt and Edward White.

The President reminded them he had promised to bring a little present and said he was going to keep that promise. Whereupon he announced he was nominating each astronaut for promotion from major to lieutenant colonel.

While he was at it, Johnson said, too, that he was nominating two other astronauts, Gordon Cooper and Gus Grissom, to be lieutenant colonels.

The wives of the astronauts dropped their mouths open in astonishment when Johnson gave the spot promotions to their husbands.

Minutemen's Camp Found

. . . 20 MILES FROM WASHINGTON IN VIRGINIA

Washington (AP) — Virginia police have seized a cache of dynamite in woodlands 20 miles from Washington, and the FBI said Friday it was the site of a training camp run by the secret, armed organization called Minutemen

Sheriff Ralph D. Shumate of Prince William County issued this statement from his office in Manassas:

"On June 10, 1965, the sheriff's office of Prince William County was contacted by the FBI in reference to a cache of explosives which were buried in Prince William County by the Minutemen, a right-wing organization.

"The investigation was conducted by the FBI, Prince William County sheriff's office and the Virginia state police.

"The explosives were located on Route 641 near the power line approximately three-fourths of a mile off 641.

"The explosives consisted of 36 sticks of dynamite, 54 non-electric caps, 6 electric caps and 50 feet of safety fuse.

"The demolition squad of Ft. McNair was called to the scene to remove the explosives.

"There was also some evidence at the scene of small arms target practice."

An FBI spokesman said federal agents discovered the site in their "continuing investigation" of the Minutemen.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has told Congress the Minuteman organization "claims its primary purpose is to prepare its members to overthrow the government of the United States in the event the government is taken over by the Communists."

Its activities have been reported mainly in the Far West and Midwest up to now.

Four Beatles Made Members Of Order Of British Empire

London (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth honored the Beatles Saturday by making them members of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire.

They said it was "great," but they didn't think "you got this sort of thing for playing rock 'n' roll music."

The four moptops were included in the queen's birthday honors' list. They now are entitled to wear around their necks a ribbon of rose pink satin lined with pearly gray silk. And they can tack onto their names the prestigious initials, M.B.E. (Member of the Order of the British Empire).

The Beatles topped a list of show business personalities on the queen's list, the first issued under the Labor government of Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

He is a Yorkshire man but was elected from Liverpool—the home area of the Beatles and the city in which they began their surge to rock 'n' roll fame.

The queen honored six persons with life perrages.

But to the man on the street the most astonishing were the awards to Beatles John Lennon, 24, Ringo Starr, 24, Paul McCartney, 22, and George Harrison, 22.

Technically speaking, the honor for the Beatles is the first step to knighthood.

Dr. Robert K. Sakai was named chairman of the department of history at the University of Nebraska by the Board of Regents Friday afternoon.

He succeeds Dr. James C. Olson who was earlier named associate dean of the Graduate College and director of graduate program development.

A native of Riverside, Calif., Dr. Sakai joined the University staff in 1951 as an instructor. He became an assistant professor in 1954, associate professor in 1958 and professor in 1962. He will teach at the Harvard University summer session this year and last year taught at the University of Hawaii summer session.

New Charter Presented To Merged Union

The new charter of recently emerged Lincoln Local 221, Lithographers and Photoengravers International Union, was presented Friday evening to David Mitchell, local president, by the union's international vice president, Theodore Brandt of Los Angeles.

Brandt said the Lincoln local was the 21st local, on an international basis, to complete the merger. Each craft formerly had separate unions.

The merger, Brandt said, was the first of its kind in 50 years for the graphic arts industry. He said meetings are now being held with other graphic arts unions, with the ultimate goal of merging to form one union to represent all workers in the graphic arts industry, replacing the present eight unions.

Brandt, who came to Lincoln especially for the charter presentation, said the present arrangement of unions in the graphic arts area is the "most fragmented, most disjointed," of any in the labor movement.

As a result, there are many jurisdictional problems, and both labor and management will benefit from future mergers, he said.

Local 221 has members in six Lincoln printing firms, with a membership of 98. The present international membership totals 50,000, and merger of the eight unions in the graphic arts industry would total 750,000, Brandt said.

In the future, the International will provide funds to help support a lithographers and photoengravers craft school, jointly sponsored by Local 221 and local printing firms.

Danze Death Is Blamed On Heart Attack

Omaha (AP) — An autopsy Friday showed that a heart attack caused the death of Eugene V. Danze, 41-year-old Omaha man whose car struck a tree Thursday night.

Another Omaha man died in a motorcycle-car collision. He was Edward J. Sempek, 24. His motorcycle was in collision with a car driven by Mrs. Emma Seymour, 71, of Glenwood, Iowa, who told police she was making a left turn and didn't see the cyclist.

Sempek was a draftsman in the Public Works Department. Survivors include his wife and two sons.

Bank Employe 'Thankful No One Else Got Hurt'

Big Springs, Neb. (AP)—"I'm thankful that he was caught without anyone else being hurt," exclaimed Wayne Kjelgaard, Big Springs Farmers State Bank employe, Friday when told by the Associated Press that Duane Pope, charged with slaying three persons in the holdup of the country bank, had been captured.

"My praise goes to all law enforcement officers," he went on. "This is certainly a relief to all the community."

The telephone call from the Associated Press was the first word to reach Big Springs of the capture of Pope in a Kansas City hotel from which the hunted man had called police to give himself up.

Wayne is a nephew of Andreas Kjelgaard, bank president who was killed, and a brother of Franklin, also a bank employe, who is recovering in a Denver hospital from two bullet wounds. Wayne had been in the bank the morning of the holdup but left before the gunman entered.

Andreas Kjelgaard, 77; Glenn Hendrickson, 59, cashier, and Mrs. Lois Ann Hothan, 35, bookkeeper, were killed by shots fired into their hearts and necks as they lay face down on the floor.

Deuel County atty. Robert E. Richards said in Chappell he probably would not go to Kansas City to question Pope but would wait until federal authorities return him to Nebraska before attempting to see him.

"It is a relief," Richards said. "It has been a long week. It has been a terribly long week for the people in Big Springs."

Honeymooners Robbery Victims

Omaha (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edmonson, honeymooners from Lincoln, told police they were robbed in Omaha Thursday night.

They said they were attempting to enter their car at the rear of a bar when two men approached them. Edmonson said he was beaten and knocked to the ground and one man held his arms while the other took $500 from his pocket.

Mrs. Edmonson said she recovered $165 from the ground where her husband lay.

Covered Wagon Travelers In Nebraska On Way North

McCook (AP)—A covered wagon caravan, bound for Canadian homesteads, camped near here one night this week.

The Don Cunningham and C. L. Freeman families, traveling in two canvas-topped wagons and with their livestock in tow, headed for North Platte from here. Then they'll angle northwest to Scottsbluff along a route—the Oregon Trail—that is no stranger to covered wagons.

Sometime in September the party hopes to reach homestead sites in British Columbia.

Traveling with two heifers, about a dozen horses and some chickens and dogs, the travelers picked the McCook area as a camping spot so the women could wash clothes in the Republican River.

Cunningham, 33, and his wife, Shirley, 30, and their two children homesteaded in Canada, but returned to Wichita Falls, Tex., for livestock. C. L. Freeman, 31, Mrs. Freeman, 30, and their six children of Kamay, Texas, decided they, too, would give Canada a try.

Traveling with the two families is Norman Doughtry, 28, a painter who joined the caravan at Sentinel, Okla.

Dr. Sakai Named Head Of NU's History Dept.

Dr. Robert K. Sakai was named chairman of the department of history at the University of Nebraska by the Board of Regents Friday afternoon.

Dr. Sakai

He succeeds Dr. James C. Olson who was earlier named associate dean of the Graduate College and director of graduate program development.

A native of Riverside, Calif., Dr. Sakai joined the University staff in 1951 as an instructor. He became an assistant professor in 1954, associate professor in 1958 and professor in 1962. He will teach at the Harvard University summer session this year and last year taught at the University of Hawaii summer session.

Dr. Sakai holds a B.A. degree from the University of California at Berkeley and M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard University. His special interest is Japanese history.

In other personnel actions Friday, the Regents:

—accepted the resignation of Dr. William N. Gilliland, professor of geology, who has accepted appointment as dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Rutgers University. A former chairman of the department, Dr. Gilliland came to NU in 1949.

—appointed Stanley A. Matzke Jr. as superintendent of the School of Technical Agriculture at the School of Agriculture at Curtis.

The appointment is the first step in implementing a resolution passed by the 1965 legislature instructing the university to set up "courses of study related to agriculture on a post school level" and discontinuing the School of Agriculture at Curtis by June 30, 1968. Dick Baker will continue to serve as superintendent of the high school.

Matzke will begin immediately to develop a variety of courses to meet the needs for technically skilled personnel.

—accepted the resignation of Dr. Winston J. Martin, associate dean of student affairs, who will become assistant to the executive dean of student affairs at the University of Tennessee. Dr. Martin came to NU in 1963.

New Charter Presented To Merged Union

The new charter of recently emerged Lincoln Local 221, Lithographers and Photoengravers International Union, was presented Friday evening to David Mitchell, local president, by the union's international vice president, Theodore Brandt of Los Angeles.

Brandt said the Lincoln local was the 21st local, on an international basis, to complete the merger. Each craft formerly had separate unions.

The merger, Brandt said, was the first of its kind in 50 years for the graphic arts industry. He said meetings are now being held with other graphic arts unions, with the ultimate goal of merging to form one union to represent all workers in the graphic arts industry, replacing the present eight unions.

Brandt, who came to Lincoln especially for the charter presentation, said the present arrangement of unions in the graphic arts area is the "most fragmented, most disjointed," of any in the labor movement.

As a result, there are many jurisdictional problems, and both labor and management will benefit from future mergers, he said.

Local 221 has members in six Lincoln printing firms, with a membership of 98. The present international membership totals 50,000, and merger of the eight unions in the graphic arts industry would total 750,000, Brandt said.

In the future, the International will provide funds to help support a lithographers and photoengravers craft school, jointly sponsored by Local 221 and local printing firms.

Danze Death Is Blamed On Heart Attack

Omaha (AP) — An autopsy Friday showed that a heart attack caused the death of Eugene V. Danze, 41-year-old Omaha man whose car struck a tree Thursday night.

Another Omaha man died in a motorcycle-car collision. He was Edward J. Sempek, 24. His motorcycle was in collision with a car driven by Mrs. Emma Seymour, 71, of Glenwood, Iowa, who told police she was making a left turn and didn't see the cyclist.

Sempek was a draftsman in the Public Works Department. Survivors include his wife and two sons.

Bank Employe 'Thankful No One Else Got Hurt'

Big Springs, Neb. (AP)—"I'm thankful that he was caught without anyone else being hurt," exclaimed Wayne Kjelgaard, Big Springs Farmers State Bank employe, Friday when told by the Associated Press that Duane Pope, charged with slaying three persons in the holdup of the country bank, had been captured.

"My praise goes to all law enforcement officers," he went on. "This is certainly a relief to all the community."

The telephone call from the Associated Press was the first word to reach Big Springs of the capture of Pope in a Kansas City hotel from which the hunted man had called police to give himself up.

Wayne is a nephew of Andreas Kjelgaard, bank president who was killed, and a brother of Franklin, also a bank employe, who is recovering in a Denver hospital from two bullet wounds. Wayne had been in the bank the morning of the holdup but left before the gunman entered.

Andreas Kjelgaard, 77; Glenn Hendrickson, 59, cashier, and Mrs. Lois Ann Hothan, 35, bookkeeper, were killed by shots fired into their hearts and necks as they lay face down on the floor.

Deuel County atty. Robert E. Richards said in Chappell he probably would not go to Kansas City to question Pope but would wait until federal authorities return him to Nebraska before attempting to see him.

"It is a relief," Richards said. "It has been a long week. It has been a terribly long week for the people in Big Springs."

Honeymooners Robbery Victims

Omaha (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edmonson, honeymooners from Lincoln, told police they were robbed in Omaha Thursday night.

They said they were attempting to enter their car at the rear of a bar when two men approached them. Edmonson said he was beaten and knocked to the ground and one man held his arms while the other took $500 from his pocket.

Mrs. Edmonson said she recovered $165 from the ground where her husband lay.

Covered Wagon Travelers In Nebraska On Way North

McCook (AP)—A covered wagon caravan, bound for Canadian homesteads, camped near here one night this week.

The Don Cunningham and C. L. Freeman families, traveling in two canvas-topped wagons and with their livestock in tow, headed for North Platte from here. Then they'll angle northwest to Scottsbluff along a route—the Oregon Trail—that is no stranger to covered wagons.

Sometime in September the party hopes to reach homestead sites in British Columbia.

Traveling with two heifers, about a dozen horses and some chickens and dogs, the travelers picked the McCook area as a camping spot so the women could wash clothes in the Republican River.

Cunningham, 33, and his wife, Shirley, 30, and their two children homesteaded in Canada, but returned to Wichita Falls, Tex., for livestock. C. L. Freeman, 31, Mrs. Freeman, 30, and their six children of Kamay, Texas, decided they, too, would give Canada a try.

Traveling with the two families is Norman Doughtry, 28, a painter who joined the caravan at Sentinel, Okla.

Annexation Many-Sided

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

One of the toughest problems faced by any growing city is found in the area of annexation, a subject discussed this week by City Planning Director Douglas Brogden with members of the City Council. Urging an aggressive annexation policy, Brogden said that "it's impossible to govern a community efficiently and intelligently in which a fourth, a third, or half of the population live outside the corporate limits."

The city currently is considering the proposed annexation of 140 acres near 70th and Normal. The difficulty being encountered there is a good example of why aggressive annexation is so essential. The ideal situation would be for annexation to precede development so that conflicts such as exist at 70th and Normal would not develop. The problem with the 70th and Normal area is that there are already homes in the area and they are served with their own sewer and water service. Thus, they do not want to become a part of the city.

Example Of Problem

On the other side of the scale are the many city services that these residents have but for which they pay no city taxes. They do business in Lincoln, they use Lincoln streets and parks and in general enjoy all the benefits of city living. Yet, they share in none of the expense of city government.

It should be obvious to anyone that such developments around the fringes of a community are most harmful to it. When your tax base is one area and your service base another and larger area, you have a problem for which annexation is the only answer. And the problem has a tendency to feed upon itself.

Areas around the fringe of a community but not a part of that community tend to contribute toward the development of more such independent areas. For instance, land beyond 70th and Normal will never be developed as a part of Lincoln so long as the tract between 63rd and 70th remains outside the city. Thus, the 70th and Normal problem contributes to the creation of still more problems in the future. Such things happen for economic reasons and because of poor practices on the part of the city. The reason for living outside the city limits is easy to see—taxes are lower, the land is cheaper to begin with, you have no water or sewer bills once you make your initial investment in these utilities, no paving can be forced upon you, etc.

It goes without saying that these economic facts are going to stimulate residential growth beyond the city limits. It is only with an agressive annexation policy that the city can deal with the situation. And if the city pursued annexation prior to development, then it would not experience the conflicts that come at later dates. If 70th and Normal had been annexed before people built homes there, there would have been little basis for complaint. But again, this is easier said than done and the reason it isn't done is again economic. The city hasn't the funds that would be required to support the demands of annexation when such action might be most appropriate. To annex means, also, to service and the latter costs money.

It means the extension of arterial streets for which the city must assume a substantial part if not all of the cost. It means street lighting, police and fire protection and water and sewer services. The city has a difficult enough time staying up with these demands as it is, much less meeting them under an aggressive annexation policy.

The problem is further compounded with the uncertainty of the future. Who knows exactly what rural area today will be a prime city residential area tomorrow? Aggressive annexation involves some speculation and this does have its pitfalls.

But despite all these things, Brogden is correct in his analysis and urging. By far, the lesser of all evils is found in aggressive annexation. The speculation feature is not quite so bad as it might first appear to be since city improvements would not be demanded with annexation, but with the development that followed. In this way, too, the city gains better control over the subdivision of land. It can then meet the drainage, traffic movement and other problems of development in advance, rather than inheriting a batch of headaches with late annexation. In this way, too, it can exercise greater control over the efficient utilization of land, discouraging large open spaces between developments.

The Least Of Evils

The kind of annexation about which Brogden speaks is sometimes difficult but it is not impossible. It is an objective toward which the city should work and one that demands we waste no time in providing an adequate level of current public services if we ever hope to get ahead of the game in annexation.

Clean Political Campaigns

Governor Frank Morrison reports that he will seek introduction in the Legislature of a bill requiring full disclosure of campaign contributions and prohibiting anonymous political campaign literature. If he can get the job done, he will have performed a distinct service for the electorate.

Currently, the reporting of campaign contributions is a joke and the use of anonymous campaign literature is often a disgusting insult. A better law on the subject would certainly help and is definitely needed, as recent campaigns in the state have shown.

Contributions are commonly made in an under-the-table manner and through left-handed means that hide the identity of the donor. As to anonymous literature, it is the hate variety that is most offensive. It often comes from outside the state and a good law might go a long way in eliminating this kind of scurrilous material.

One problem will remain, however, and that is enforcement of the law. The trouble with many such laws as these is that enforcement is left up to the individual. State laws for the protection of the public are notoriously weak in this feature.

Many people think that a state law is enforced by the state or by the county attorney. Such is not the case except in the matter of criminal law. If the law in regard to political campaigning, interest rates, lobbying and many others is to be enforced, it must be through court action by a citizen. Why not provide for enforcement through the state Justice Department and give the attorney general sufficient staff to do the job?

The Nuclear Alarm Clock

It may be quite late in the day and the odds are estimated at 100 to 1 against Nebraska, but it is significant that Lincoln, Omaha and other Nebraska communities have agreed to work together in the hopes of landing the proposed government 200 megawatt accelerator on the site of the former Mead ordnance plant.

We might explain that the accelerator is a large installation in which the mechanism, which operates largely in a tunnel 40 feet underground, requires a path a mile in diameter. It builds up enormous voltages, enough to crack atoms. It is necessary for high energy research. It requires 2,000 nuclear scientists, engineers and technicians as a permanent force. It is expected to cost $250 million and to be a research center for the free world.

Geographically, geologically and topographically Nebraska would be the ideal pace for it. But we must face some facts. Nebraska is not an industrial state. Its educational institutions are pretty far down in the field of high energy physics. The state has slept while the world changed, and is pretty far out of the picture. It also carries on parochial feuds. All that is quite a drawback, but it would change quickly if it got the accelerator.

We do not know whether Nebraska will be favored. But we will say that Nebraska is going to try and that in itself can make a great difference. The accelerator has turned out to be a nuclear alarm clock which quickly brought Nebraska face-to-face with the reality of the modern world. It threw Omaha and Lincoln together and told the whole state it would have to change its thinking.

Gorillas Watch TV

From The Denver Post

Have you ever heard of gorillas watching television? Before you precipitately start ticking off the names of your in-laws, let us tell you that we mean real gorillas: apes—the big, ugly, hairy kind. Now that you know the ground rules, if you still want to list your in-laws, proceed at your own risk.

The New York Times decorated its normally grey and sedate columns the other day with the gaudy intelligence that the four gorillas at the Bronx Zoo love to watch television.

It seems that when the four simians were taken from their outdoor romping area and confined in their indoor cages last winter, they quickly became bored and cranky and started bickering with each other.

Any experienced babysitter or parent will instantly recognize the symptoms.

Anyway, someone at the zoo (perhaps an undercover Nielsen operative) suggested that a television set be placed just outside the cage where the gorillas could watch it.

The results? "Petulant brawling ceased," the Times reported. "So did the other symptoms of ennui and frustration—the pacing, the nervous thumb-twiddling, the yawning and stretching, the constant arguments."

Any experienced babysitter or parent will instantly recognize the effects.

Mambo, the largest of the gorillas manifested a frighteningly human trait. He lost interest in the TV and became noisy and obstreperous — but only during commercials.

Just as humans delight in watching the scampering and swinging antics of simians, so the gorillas at the Bronx Zoo delighted in watching humans in rapid action: cops-and-robbers' chases, cowboys-and-Indians' battles, twist parties, etc.

Military Deeply In Government

WASHINGTON — Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., digging through legislative reports which most senators don't bother to read, has come up with some interesting figures regarding military encroachment on civilian branches of government.

He has found 41 generals and admirals serving in high civilian positions, most of them at salaries higher than those paid to the cabinet and in one or two cases higher than any other civilian except President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey.

Hartke has also found that on January 29, 1960, stand-by executive orders were drawn up to transfer much of the civilian government over to the military in case of war.

Such vital civilian agencies as the Labor, Interior, Commerce, and Health, Education, and Welfare departments would be taken over by the military under executive orders already drafted and ready to be put into effect with the stroke of a pen.

During World War II not one civilian agency was taken over by the military except the Coast Guard, which was placed under the Navy. Despite the most devastating war in history, the civilian texture of government was maintained.

Sen. Hartke unearthed these facts while examining the White House proposal to set aside the law requiring a civillian to head the Federal Aviation Agency and permit Lt. Gen. William McKee to become FAA administrator. General McKee is now with the space agency, drawing a salary of $40,565, slightly more than the third-ranking civilian, Chief Justice Warren.

Due to the dual compensation pay, passed by the Johnson administration last December, more and more generals and admirals are flocking into the civilian branches of government with combined pay usually higher than that of a cabinet member, who gets $25,000, or a senator, who gets $30,000. The President is paid $100,000, and the vice president $43,000.

Here are some of the top generals and admirals occupying policy positions with their salaries as unearthed by Sen. Hartke:

In the State Department, foreign policy is being directed by Gen. Maxwell Taylor, ambassador to Viet Nam, drawing up to $39,859; Gen. Herbert B. Powell, ambassador to New Zealand, up to $39,033; Admiral Jerauld Wright, ambassador to China, up to $39,033; Admiral George W. Anderson, ambassador to Portugal, Brig. Gen. Milton Summerfelt, adviser to the State Department at $78.64 a day plus $11,115 retirement pay; Admiral Elonzo Grantham, senior evaluation officer, $28,570.

Gotham Politics Now More Scrambled

WASHINGTON—New York is suddenly the scene of a political conflict which will determine the power structure of the city, state and eventually the nation for years to come.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner's refusal to seek a fourth term has shattered a whole host of comfortable illusions held in many places.

Republicans now know that their chance to make a comeback in city, state and nation with Rep. John Lindsay, the liberal running for mayor, is real and it is here. Their rather patronizing effort to capitalize for the party on what they regarded as a losing try is out of date.

Democrats face a collision of sorts between the Johnson-Humphrey administration and the Kennedy dynasty. Sen. Robert and Edward Kennedy and their friends have aready mounted an effort to create a liberal bloc within the Democratic party which can dispute the President on issues and displace Hubert Humphrey as the logical next president.

The most direct and immediate challenge is to Robert, the New York senator, who even more openly has been laying claim to state party leadership. He had expected to sit this one out with Mayor Wagner while he sought a Kennedy candidate for governor against Gov. Rockefeller next year. That did not promise to be easy, for the senator is new to New York and elective office.

☆

His timetable becomes crucial. That undisputed master of the political art, President Johnson, may take matters in his own hands, since with luck Lindsay could become Republican trouble for him.

Washington will watch this one with absorption. But New York state has two minor parties which also have some important decisions to make.

The Liberal Party is frankly allied with Democrats. Its leaders have a good working arrangement with Wagner, but, comfortable in their assumption that he would run again, they spoke warmly of Lindsay as one of their own kind.

Some of them all but said, "Too bad, old boy, but of course Wagner is an even older liberal friend," an attitude which will no longer hold. Lindsay is free to press his claim on them and will.

At the opposite end are the New York conservatives who oppose Lindsay and plan to run their own candidate. It could cost him an estimated 200,000 votes. But such a move now would be bitterly resented by the party they hope to influence.

It is not immediately apparent where Democrats can turn for a successor to Wagner. Various city officials would be glad to oblige, but they lack glamour. It is being suggested that Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. might save the day, especially as brother Elliott just got himself elected mayor of Miami Beach.

But Franklin wants to be governor, and he has a shrewd idea of what the New York mayoralty takes out of a man.

ON TARGET

By DON WALTON

It is remarkable that only one vote changed during the 18 days between legislative floor votes on the state income tax bill.

Walton

During those difficult 18 days, senators were subjected to the most intense pressure of the 1965 session, perhaps more intense than any in recent legislative history.

Lawmakers were flooded with mail, belabored by telephone calls and telegrams, lobbied at the Statehouse, on the street and even at home.

Yet, only one vote changed.

Why?

We asked a number of knowledgeable senators that question, and their answer was simple: Opponents of the income tax bill applied not too little pressure, but too much.

The result: senatorial positions hardened. A number of senators got downright mad, and some are still angry about the hard-sell tactics which have been directed at them.

Many of them have encountered political threats—both implied and plainly spoken—and they have reacted not by yielding, but by stiffening their backs.

We do not seek to argue the merits or demerits of LB797, but we would suggest that the members of the 1965 Legislature have thus far displayed great political courage in holding their positions on the bill.

A number of them risk their seats in the Unicameral. They know it. And still they will not change.

Even Terry Carpenter, who opposes the bill, expressed pride in the way his colleagues have held to their positions on both sides of the issue.

Senators are elected to render their best judgment in voting on bills before the Unicameral. If voters disagree with their senator's judgment, they can throw him out at the next election. And this Legislature appears content to abide by that philosophy.

Pressure will continue to be applied on the lawmakers right up to the hour of final reading—most of it inspired by an Omaha newspaper's continuing series on the bill. That's fact, not criticism.

Four senators who have voted not to kill the bill up to this time remain question marks then the chips are down. If they all switched, LB797 would die.

Thus, with but a few days to go, suspense will not be lacking as the major drama of the 1965 session enters its final act.

Right or wrong, senators on both sides have apparently voted their convictions thus far.

If positions hold, you may chalk up another remarkable feature of this remarkable Legislature.

It has already tagged itself as the most progressive in recent memory; it is on the edge of acquiring a hard-earned badge of courage.

The badge may well turn out to be a political Purple Heart.

But what man who owns one would trade it for a barrel of votes?

Some of this week's spirited debate on the income tax bill did not survive newspaper space limitations, including:

—Eric Rasmussen's suggestion that proponents of the bill follow the lead of the two rabbits which, upon being chased by two dogs, jumped into a culvert. "Wait a minute," said one to the other, "and we'll outnumber them."

—Noting the population growth in Omaha (historic seat of opposition to a broadened tax base) and its effect on representation in the Legislature, Hal Bauer cautioned income tax proponents to beware. "We," he pointed out, "are not the rabbits."

—Fred Carstens told his colleagues that he fears he will lose all his friends no matter how he votes on the bill. Even his dog has been giving him the eye, Carstens said.

—Angered by suggestions that the bill is designed to provide tax advantages for the farmers, Frank Nelson invited his city colleagues to take up farming and acquire all the supposed advantages contained therein. "There is still plenty of land for sale," he noted.

—George Gerdes left other senators gasping with a well-timed pause, as he replied to criticism that the bill will harm Nebraska's industrial development program. Pointing to industrial growth in surrounding states which have sales and income taxes, Gerdes labeled such arguments as "a lot of . . . poppycock."

—About 27% of the funds budgeted for education, welfare and institutions in LB889, the major appropriations bill of the 1965 session, are federal funds, according to the measure's fiscal note.

—Terry Carpenter tells the story about the Lincoln man who told him how concerned he was with increased state spending. In the next breath, he was suggesting that the state purchase some of his real estate on which it could erect a proposed new state office building.

Two fine letters were published in The Star on June 9, one from Kent M. Yates, and the other from "Reader" of Bennet, Nebraska, paraphrasing that great 13th Chapter of Corinthians. The insight of these two writers is to be highly commended. These two letters greatly complement each other, for the one says that if America is to be great, it must be a nation of ideals practiced, while the other says that the greatest ideal of all is charity toward one's fellow countryman.

To be idealistic sometimes in this modern life is to be taken for a "square" or a dreamer of impossibilities. However, if we dissect the issue more closely, we find that ideals are practiced by individuals, and individuals can practice ideals. The practicing of ideals individually and in unison can become a great force in society. With the needs so great, we must find ways of doing this.

The main emphasis of the Nebraska Plan (the use and support of the symbolic promise, "All Citizens Welcome") is exactly this, to practice an ideal individually and in unison, and to go one step further, to advertise the ideal, so that the great subtlety of example can be useful in creating a greater America.

When one considers the wonder of progress, it is sometimes hopeful, sometimes alarming, and rather like science fiction. Some time ago a nation boasted of grafting an extra head onto a dog, perhaps in the belief that two heads are better than one.

We have also been successful now in replacing many vital organs in the human body, transplanting them from a healthy person to a diseased body. If our three main diseases, cancer, heart and cerebral effects, could be cured, people between 20 and 30 could add another 40 or more years, in spite of normal wear and tear of aging. A Long Island hospital reports a manner of prolonging life for those ill of leukemia.

There are vaults now in which the departed will be kept in deep freeze until a cure has been discovered. Such extreme temperature could not be affected by law of power for weeks. The purpose is to thaw, return to normal living and cure, the cure having been discovered during the lapse of time. The hitch would be waking up to new generations, knowing no one from the past. What would happen if everyone would take the same position against oath-taking as some have on the loyalty oath?

An oath is simply an affirmation and a pledge to do certain things. It is as old as history. Civilization has been built upon the oath and the structure (the family) is held together by wedding oaths. Oaths may be found throughout our entire social and business structure. How about depositions and witness oaths? There are notaries public, witnessing, signing, etc. Even the signing of a contract is a pledge to do what is contained within the four corners of the paper.

Annexation Many-Sided

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

One of the toughest problems faced by any growing city is found in the area of annexation, a subject discussed this week by City Planning Director Douglas Brogden with members of the City Council. Urging an aggressive annexation policy, Brogden said that "it's impossible to govern a community efficiently and intelligently in which a fourth, a third, or half of the population live outside the corporate limits."

The city currently is considering the proposed annexation of 140 acres near 70th and Normal. The difficulty being encountered there is a good example of why aggressive annexation is so essential. The ideal situation would be for annexation to precede development so that conflicts such as exist at 70th and Normal would not develop. The problem with the 70th and Normal area is that there are already homes in the area and they are served with their own sewer and water service. Thus, they do not want to become a part of the city.

Example Of Problem

On the other side of the scale are the many city services that these residents have but for which they pay no city taxes. They do business in Lincoln, they use Lincoln streets and parks and in general enjoy all the benefits of city living. Yet, they share in none of the expense of city government.

It should be obvious to anyone that such developments around the fringes of a community are most harmful to it. When your tax base is one area and your service base another and larger area, you have a problem for which annexation is the only answer. And the problem has a tendency to feed upon itself.

Areas around the fringe of a community but not a part of that community tend to contribute toward the development of more such independent areas. For instance, land beyond 70th and Normal will never be developed as a part of Lincoln so long as the tract between 63rd and 70th remains outside the city. Thus, the 70th and Normal problem contributes to the creation of still more problems in the future. Such things happen for economic reasons and because of poor practices on the part of the city. The reason for living outside the city limits is easy to see—taxes are lower, the land is cheaper to begin with, you have no water or sewer bills once you make your initial investment in these utilities, no paving can be forced upon you, etc.

It goes without saying that these economic facts are going to stimulate residential growth beyond the city limits. It is only with an agressive annexation policy that the city can deal with the situation. And if the city pursued annexation prior to development, then it would not experience the conflicts that come at later dates. If 70th and Normal had been annexed before people built homes there, there would have been little basis for complaint. But again, this is easier said than done and the reason it isn't done is again economic. The city hasn't the funds that would be required to support the demands of annexation when such action might be most appropriate. To annex means, also, to service and the latter costs money.

It means the extension of arterial streets for which the city must assume a substantial part if not all of the cost. It means street lighting, police and fire protection and water and sewer services. The city has a difficult enough time staying up with these demands as it is, much less meeting them under an aggressive annexation policy.

The problem is further compounded with the uncertainty of the future. Who knows exactly what rural area today will be a prime city residential area tomorrow? Aggressive annexation involves some speculation and this does have its pitfalls.

But despite all these things, Brogden is correct in his analysis and urging. By far, the lesser of all evils is found in aggressive annexation. The speculation feature is not quite so bad as it might first appear to be since city improvements would not be demanded with annexation, but with the development that followed. In this way, too, the city gains better control over the subdivision of land. It can then meet the drainage, traffic movement and other problems of development in advance, rather than inheriting a batch of headaches with late annexation. In this way, too, it can exercise greater control over the efficient utilization of land, discouraging large open spaces between developments.

The Least Of Evils

The kind of annexation about which Brogden speaks is sometimes difficult but it is not impossible. It is an objective toward which the city should work and one that demands we waste no time in providing an adequate level of current public services if we ever hope to get ahead of the game in annexation.

Clean Political Campaigns

Governor Frank Morrison reports that he will seek introduction in the Legislature of a bill requiring full disclosure of campaign contributions and prohibiting anonymous political campaign literature. If he can get the job done, he will have performed a distinct service for the electorate.

Currently, the reporting of campaign contributions is a joke and the use of anonymous campaign literature is often a disgusting insult. A better law on the subject would certainly help and is definitely needed, as recent campaigns in the state have shown.

Contributions are commonly made in an under-the-table manner and through left-handed means that hide the identity of the donor. As to anonymous literature, it is the hate variety that is most offensive. It often comes from outside the state and a good law might go a long way in eliminating this kind of scurrilous material.

One problem will remain, however, and that is enforcement of the law. The trouble with many such laws as these is that enforcement is left up to the individual. State laws for the protection of the public are notoriously weak in this feature.

Many people think that a state law is enforced by the state or by the county attorney. Such is not the case except in the matter of criminal law. If the law in regard to political campaigning, interest rates, lobbying and many others is to be enforced, it must be through court action by a citizen. Why not provide for enforcement through the state Justice Department and give the attorney general sufficient staff to do the job?

The Nuclear Alarm Clock

It may be quite late in the day and the odds are estimated at 100 to 1 against Nebraska, but it is significant that Lincoln, Omaha and other Nebraska communities have agreed to work together in the hopes of landing the proposed government 200 megawatt accelerator on the site of the former Mead ordnance plant.

We might explain that the accelerator is a large installation in which the mechanism, which operates largely in a tunnel 40 feet underground, requires a path a mile in diameter. It builds up enormous voltages, enough to crack atoms. It is necessary for high energy research. It requires 2,000 nuclear scientists, engineers and technicians as a permanent force. It is expected to cost $250 million and to be a research center for the free world.

Geographically, geologically and topographically Nebraska would be the ideal pace for it. But we must face some facts. Nebraska is not an industrial state. Its educational institutions are pretty far down in the field of high energy physics. The state has slept while the world changed, and is pretty far out of the picture. It also carries on parochial feuds. All that is quite a drawback, but it would change quickly if it got the accelerator.

We do not know whether Nebraska will be favored. But we will say that Nebraska is going to try and that in itself can make a great difference. The accelerator has turned out to be a nuclear alarm clock which quickly brought Nebraska face-to-face with the reality of the modern world. It threw Omaha and Lincoln together and told the whole state it would have to change its thinking.

Gorillas Watch TV

From The Denver Post

Have you ever heard of gorillas watching television? Before you precipitately start ticking off the names of your in-laws, let us tell you that we mean real gorillas: apes—the big, ugly, hairy kind. Now that you know the ground rules, if you still want to list your in-laws, proceed at your own risk.

The New York Times decorated its normally grey and sedate columns the other day with the gaudy intelligence that the four gorillas at the Bronx Zoo love to watch television.

It seems that when the four simians were taken from their outdoor romping area and confined in their indoor cages last winter, they quickly became bored and cranky and started bickering with each other.

Any experienced babysitter or parent will instantly recognize the symptoms.

Anyway, someone at the zoo (perhaps an undercover Nielsen operative) suggested that a television set be placed just outside the cage where the gorillas could watch it.

The results? "Petulant brawling ceased," the Times reported. "So did the other symptoms of ennui and frustration—the pacing, the nervous thumb-twiddling, the yawning and stretching, the constant arguments."

Any experienced babysitter or parent will instantly recognize the effects.

Mambo, the largest of the gorillas manifested a frighteningly human trait. He lost interest in the TV and became noisy and obstreperous — but only during commercials.

Just as humans delight in watching the scampering and swinging antics of simians, so the gorillas at the Bronx Zoo delighted in watching humans in rapid action: cops-and-robbers' chases, cowboys-and-Indians' battles, twist parties, etc.

Military Deeply In Government

WASHINGTON — Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., digging through legislative reports which most senators don't bother to read, has come up with some interesting figures regarding military encroachment on civilian branches of government.

He has found 41 generals and admirals serving in high civilian positions, most of them at salaries higher than those paid to the cabinet and in one or two cases higher than any other civilian except President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey.

Hartke has also found that on January 29, 1960, stand-by executive orders were drawn up to transfer much of the civilian government over to the military in case of war.

Such vital civilian agencies as the Labor, Interior, Commerce, and Health, Education, and Welfare departments would be taken over by the military under executive orders already drafted and ready to be put into effect with the stroke of a pen.

☆ ☆ ☆

During World War II not one civilian agency was taken over by the military except the Coast Guard, which was placed under the Navy. Despite the most devastating war in history, the civilian texture of government was maintained.

Sen. Hartke unearthed these facts while examining the White House proposal to set aside the law requiring a civillian to head the Federal Aviation Agency and permit Lt. Gen. William McKee to become FAA administrator. General McKee is now with the space agency, drawing a salary of $40,565, slightly more than the third-ranking civilian, Chief Justice Warren.

Due to the dual compensation pay, passed by the Johnson administration last December, more and more generals and admirals are flocking into the civilian branches of government with combined pay usually higher than that of a cabinet member, who gets $25,000, or a senator, who gets $30,000. The President is paid $100,000, and the vice president $43,000.

Here are some of the top generals and admirals occupying policy positions with their salaries as unearthed by Sen. Hartke:

In the State Department, foreign policy is being directed by Gen. Maxwell Taylor, ambassador to Viet Nam, drawing up to $39,859; Gen. Herbert B. Powell, ambassador to New Zealand, up to $39,033; Admiral Jerauld Wright, ambassador to China, up to $39,033; Admiral George W. Anderson, ambassador to Portugal, Brig. Gen. Milton Summerfelt, adviser to the State Department at $78.64 a day plus $11,115 retirement pay; Admiral Elonzo Grantham, senior evaluation officer, $28,570.

Gotham Politics Now More Scrambled

WASHINGTON—New York is suddenly the scene of a political conflict which will determine the power structure of the city, state and eventually the nation for years to come.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner's refusal to seek a fourth term has shattered a whole host of comfortable illusions held in many places.

Republicans now know that their chance to make a comeback in city, state and nation with Rep. John Lindsay, the liberal running for mayor, is real and it is here. Their rather patronizing effort to capitalize for the party on what they regarded as a losing try is out of date.

Democrats face a collision of sorts between the Johnson-Humphrey administration and the Kennedy dynasty. Sen. Robert and Edward Kennedy and their friends have aready mounted an effort to create a liberal bloc within the Democratic party which can dispute the President on issues and displace Hubert Humphrey as the logical next president.

The most direct and immediate challenge is to Robert, the New York senator, who even more openly has been laying claim to state party leadership. He had expected to sit this one out with Mayor Wagner while he sought a Kennedy candidate for governor against Gov. Rockefeller next year. That did not promise to be easy, for the senator is new to New York and elective office.

☆ ☆ ☆

His timetable becomes crucial. That undisputed master of the political art, President Johnson, may take matters in his own hands, since with luck Lindsay could become Republican trouble for him.

Washington will watch this one with absorption. But New York state has two minor parties which also have some important decisions to make.

The Liberal Party is frankly allied with Democrats. Its leaders have a good working arrangement with Wagner, but, comfortable in their assumption that he would run again, they spoke warmly of Lindsay as one of their own kind.

Some of them all but said, "Too bad, old boy, but of course Wagner is an even older liberal friend," an attitude which will no longer hold. Lindsay is free to press his claim on them and will.

At the opposite end are the New York conservatives who oppose Lindsay and plan to run their own candidate. It could cost him an estimated 200,000 votes. But such a move now would be bitterly resented by the party they hope to influence.

It is not immediately apparent where Democrats can turn for a successor to Wagner. Various city officials would be glad to oblige, but they lack glamour. It is being suggested that Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. might save the day, especially as brother Elliott just got himself elected mayor of Miami Beach.

But Franklin wants to be governor, and he has a shrewd idea of what the New York mayoralty takes out of a man.

ON TARGET

By DON WALTON

It is remarkable that only one vote changed during the 18 days between legislative floor votes on the state income tax bill.

Walton

During those difficult 18 days, senators were subjected to the most intense pressure of the 1965 session, perhaps more intense than any in recent legislative history.

Lawmakers were flooded with mail, belabored by telephone calls and telegrams, lobbied at the Statehouse, on the street and even at home.

Yet, only one vote changed.

Why?

We asked a number of knowledgeable senators that question, and their answer was simple: Opponents of the income tax bill applied not too little pressure, but too much.

The result: senatorial positions hardened. A number of senators got downright mad, and some are still angry about the hard-sell tactics which have been directed at them.

Many of them have encountered political threats—both implied and plainly spoken—and they have reacted not by yielding, but by stiffening their backs.

We do not seek to argue the merits or demerits of LB797, but we would suggest that the members of the 1965 Legislature have thus far displayed great political courage in holding their positions on the bill.

A number of them risk their seats in the Unicameral. They know it. And still they will not change.

Even Terry Carpenter, who opposes the bill, expressed pride in the way his colleagues have held to their positions on both sides of the issue.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Son Says He Can't Repay $5,000 Loan

By ROBERT PETERSON

Q. "Five years ago our son begged us to loan him our savings of $5,000 so he could make a down payment on a house. He promised on bended knee to pay it back. Since then he's paid back exactly $250. He makes just $80 weekly at a greenhouse and says that with mortgage payments, a wife and three children he'll probably never be able to repay the loan. What can I do?"

A. Yours is a quandary facing many parents of limited means who have tried to help their children. Try to find pleasure in the fact that you've helped your son get established. Before putting all the blame on your son, blame yourself and society for not drumming it into kids that they shouldn't get married, buy houses and have families until they're pretty sure they can afford the tab.

Q. "Why can't someone write new songs for group singing. I'm nauseated by 'Home on the Range' and 'My Old Kentucky Home' Is anyone else getting as sick of these old tunes as I am?"

A. I haven't heard any complaints. Most people absolutely refuse to learn the words to new songs. Unless song leaders want folks to just hum or mumble they've got to stick to old favorites whose words are familiar. Most elders with whom I've talked love the sentiments associated with old favorites, and the familiarity which permits them to sing easily and with a sense of rich nostalgia.

Q. "We children chipped in and bought Dad a jig saw when he retired. Now he spends all day at his workbench and whistles and hums like a little German toymaker. He's already turned out a hundred lawn ornaments, bird houses and knickknacks. Everyone on the block has been given a free sample. Any way to help him cash in on this hobby?"

A. Sure, take samples of his work to garden supply stores and nurseries in the suburbs or along highways. Most small shops can use a supplier of well-made merchandise of this kind. It's important that you find an outlet for your Dad's production so he'll retain his interest in what seems to be a very constructive and satisfying retirement hobby.

Q. "All my life I've yearned to own a big white convertible. It all started 40 years ago when I worked as a messenger boy in a bank and was pop-eyed every time the President drove up in his 1924 Willys-Knight touring machine. I can afford it now but my wife says its kind of silly at 68 to be gratifying a youthful dream What do you think?"

A. I'd vote for buying the car. After a few months of driving around with the top down and drawing admiring whistles the spell will probably wear off. Then you can come in out of the wind, trade the car in on a more conventional vehicle, and resume life with the satisfaction of having seen one of your dreams come true.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Son Says He Can't Repay $5,000 Loan

By ROBERT PETERSON

Q. "Five years ago our son begged us to loan him our savings of $5,000 so he could make a down payment on a house. He promised on bended knee to pay it back. Since then he's paid back exactly $250. He makes just $80 weekly at a greenhouse and says that with mortgage payments, a wife and three children he'll probably never be able to repay the loan. What can I do?"

A. Yours is a quandary facing many parents of limited means who have tried to help their children. Try to find pleasure in the fact that you've helped your son get established. Before putting all the blame on your son, blame yourself and society for not drumming it into kids that they shouldn't get married, buy houses and have families until they're pretty sure they can afford the tab.

Q. "Why can't someone write new songs for group singing. I'm nauseated by 'Home on the Range' and 'My Old Kentucky Home.' Is anyone else getting as sick of these old tunes as I am?"

A. I haven't heard any complaints. Most people absolutely refuse to learn the words to new songs. Unless song leaders want folks to just hum or mumble they've got to stick to old favorites whose words are familiar. Most elders with whom I've talked love the sentiments associated with old favorites, and the familiarity which permits them to sing easily and with a sense of rich nostalgia.

Q. "We children chipped in and bought Dad a jig saw when he retired. Now he spends all day at his workbench and whistles and hums like a little German toymaker. He's already turned out a hundred lawn ornaments, bird houses and knickknacks. Everyone on the block has been given a free sample. Any way to help him cash in on this hobby?"

Nebraskans 'Stress Cost, Not Value Of Services,' NU Teacher Says

By MARY REIFSCHNEIDER
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska was described as a state "excessively concerned with the cost and not the value" of governmental programs during a panel discussion on "How Conservative is Nebraska?" Friday.

That hypothesis was made by Dr. Robert Knoll, a native Nebraskan and University of Nebraska English professor, acting as panel moderator. The discussion was part of the NU Alumni College activities being held this weekend.

Knoll defined conservatism as being unwilling to let government assume social responsibility to a level of the state's wealth or ability. He cited such areas as help for the indigent, and the amount of money spent on education and hospitals.

Inherited

Bruce Nicoll, director of the University of Nebraska Press said the state's politics and viewpoints have been inherited from a pioneer past. He said Nebraskans still live by the frontier tradition of "taking care of our own."

Nicoll said the state's first settlers had to be innovators as a result of the natural and manmade disasters that befell them.

Another member of the panel, Wallace Rudolph. NU law professor, said Nebraska is possibly more conservative in the 20th Century, from 1920 to 1960, than in previous times.

Rudolph suggested that the reason for this modern conservatism could be the result of successfully meeting challenges earlier and using the same responses for modern problems.

The fourth member of the panel, Dr. Howard Ottoson, chairman of the department of agricultural economics at the University, questioned whether what was called Nebraskans' negative attitudes on social help were "the result of native selfishness on the part of Nebraskans or the lack of those asking for the help?"

Not On Issues

He said political parties in Nebraska don't wage campaign on issues such as better schools and roads. but, rather on personalities.

Ottoson said Nebraskans aren't conservative in all areas. He said the University is being supported better today than it was during the '30s and '40s. The reason for this is leadership, which wasn't as strong then as it is now, he said.

Nicoll said politics in Nebraska is run on a consensus basis. "It's difficult for politicians to know what the consensus is because it takes time to form."

Nicoll added that the Unicameral is an honest reflection of the state. "We're all guilty of the same indecision we see in the Legislature. And to the Legislature's everlasting credit, they've been able to take action when there is no consensus."

Ottoson said Nebraska politics lacks intensity between opposing groups. To get more done, politicians need pressure which voters don't apply, Rudolph said.

Reasoner Quizzed

Before the panel, alumni asked CBS newscaster Harry Reasoner questions in world events via a telelecture from New York.

He said the administration's anti-poverty program "won't be a cure-all, but if Congress watches it closely, we'll learn something about this problem."

Reasoner said Congress, the administration and the Pentagon support the Viet Nam policy because they see no alternatives. He said Viet Nam is the biggest problem the U.S. faces this year.

He said no real progress has been made in securing U. S. minimum objectives of a stable, not-too-radical government in the Dominican Republic.

"Stable government will be difficult to achieve. I estimate it's months or years off," Reasoner said.

The recent stockmarket drops may indicate a recession like the 1961 one, but a crash such as in 1929 doesn't appear to be coming, he said.

Afraid of Lindsay

In discussing the New York City mayor's campaign, he said the Democratic leadership is afraid of John Lindsay, the GOP candidate. Reasoner said Lindsay is well respected by liberals in both parties.

He said Lindsay's present image is a lot like John F. Kennedy in 1950, though Lindsay does not have as much money. He said Lindsay will have an uphill fight with registered Democrats outnumbering Republicans three million to 600,000.

Arraignment Set For June 25th In Counterfeit Case

Larry Gene McGuire of Lincoln, charged with counterfeiting, appeared before U.S. District Judge Robert Van Pelt Friday.

Van Pelt set his arraignment for June 25.

McGuire, 27, of 3401 Lewis was released on $5,000 until that date.

He is charged with:

—Counterfeiting $10 U. S. Federal Reserve notes.

—Possessing counterfeited Federal Reserve notes.

—Making and possessing a plate in the likeness of those used by the U.S. Treasury.

U.S. District Atty. Theodore Richling told the court that an indictment has been returned on McGuire.

McGuire was arrested by local and federal authorities in Lincoln April 21, after the false plates were discovered by his employer.

River Land Dispute Decision Told

The State Supreme Court Friday reversed in part a lower tribunal ruling involving ownership of Missouri River bottomlands in southeast Nebraska.

The court based its decision on the 1890 course of the river channel and long-time state law granting accretion lands to abutting property owners.

The Richardson County District Court quieted title to the land to the Osgood-Lewis-Perkins, Inc., a Nebraska corporation.

Alma M. Green and other land owners in the area appealed the order. They said the disputed property was unfairly divided, that some of it belonged to them by adverse possession and that some of the land was subject to accretion laws.

The Supreme Court decision, authored by Associate Justice Robert Smith, said the district court was correct in granting the corporation that land generally west of a 1927 accretion line set by the U.S. surveyor.

But it said property to the east and south along the river rightfully belonged to the defendants.

Under Nebraska law, the court noted, individual citizens own land built up by accretion along rivers.

In other rulings Friday the court –Reversed and remanded to new trial a Douglas County District Court personal injury suit involving a 12 year-old Omaha youth.

It said the lower court erred in instructing the jury to return a verdict of gross negligence if it found for the plaintiff.

The district court determined that the youth, George Snelling Jr., was a guest not a passenger in a car owned by Leo Pieper on July 17, 1962. The Supreme court disagreed.

Snelling was injured when the car, driven by Pieper's son, overturned and crashed while going around a sharp curve near Omaha. Pieper was in the car at the time.

Associate Justices Edward Carter and Robert Brower dissented from the majority finding.

—Affirmed a Lancaster County Juvenile Court ruling in a divorce action involving Margaret and Robert Lee Kassebaum.

Bill Creating New Agency Is Advanced

A far-reaching bill to create a new state department of administrative services, centralizing presently scattered financial operations of state government, received 33-1 first round approval in the State Legislature Friday.

Only Sen. William R. Skarda Jr. of Omaha voted against advancement of the bill from general file.

Lawmakers used virtually the entire forenoon to complete a section-by-section study begun Thursday afternoon on the 32-section LB173.

The measure grew out of interim studies by a budget study committee headed by Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings.

Several mostly minor changes were written into the act Friday.

One shortens from four years to two years the target period for putting the new system into full effect.

Another calls for competitive bidding on all state purchases except in emergencies so designated by the governor.

The new department will centralize budgeting, accounting, purchasing and Capitol buildings supervision under a new state agency under the control of the governor.

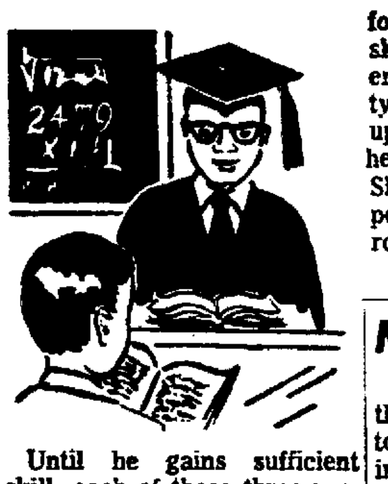
Summer Is Ideal Time To Improve Skills For Schoolwork

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON



Intermediate grade students talk better than they write, and, tell stories better than they can read them!

That's fine, but school grades are based primarily on how well students read and express themselves in writing—not on how much they know or how fast they can talk.

Take, for example, the writing of stories. All at the same time, a child must come up with the necessary ideas, spell the words and carry on the process of writing them on paper.

Thus, schoolwork often demands a three-way concentration.

Until he gains sufficient skill, each of these three processes takes a child's complete attention.

Summer is an ideal time for the improvement of these skills. During vacation, mother has a wonderful opportunity to help her children catch up on them and, in fact, get a head start for the coming year. She can provide practice not possible in a crowded schoolroom.

Mrs. Smith accomplished this purpose last summer with a letter-writing project. One day it would be a letter to be read to father on his return home; another day a letter to write to grandmother, but the steps were always the same.

Susan Smith, a fourth-grader, would tell a story to her mother about some play activity or a trip to the zoo. Mother wrote the story as Susan related it.

In this process, Susan read words that she normally would not recognize while reading as well as some she could not spell.

The next step was to discuss the story briefly, giving Susan a chance to add ideas and get the sequence of events straight. Thus Susan practiced organizing her thoughts.

The third step was for Susan to copy the story for use in a letter. Now her attention could be turned completely to writing. As she wrote, concentrating on each successive word, she not only learned to recognize words but how to spell them. Both her handwriting and spelling improved.

With the letter completed in Susan's handwriting, step four was for Susan to read it aloud several times to her mother. Thus she brought her reading vocabulary up to her speaking vocabulary.

Having practiced this way, she could then read her letter to her father with pride. Needless to say as her thinking, her writing and her reading improved, she was progressing toward the time when she could control all three processes simultaneously.

Mrs. Smith's summer project sent Susan back to school in the fall with a head start in the fundamental skills needed for success.

Meet Star Carrier Kenneth Hatfield

Kenneth

Kenneth Hatfield delivers the Lincoln Star to his customers in the area surrounding Cotner and Normal. Ken, 14, lives at 2137 South 48th Street, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hatfield. Ken, along with his parents, attends the First Baptist Church.

Ken is an eighth grader at Millard Lefler Junior High and rates social studies, physical education, and music as his best subjects. Football, basketball, skiing, fishing, and swimming lead his list of favorite sports. In his spare time he builds model cars and rides horses. During the school year he plays the trumpet in the school band. This summer Ken and his family plan to visit Tuttle Creek Dam in Kansas and do some fishing and swimming. He said he cannot wait to go.

Ken puts part of his $20 profit in the bank to be used in the future for a college education and the rest he uses for spending, mostly for fishing equipment. Ken's future plans are to attend the University of Nebraska and become a veterinarian.

In the eight months Ken has had his paper route he has increased it by six new customers. Ken is a hard worker, is trying hard to gain new customers to increase his profit. He gives top-notch service and always delivers his papers with his customers in mind. Ken feels that having his paper route has helped him to deal with people, and to create a friendly and courteous attitude. He also is planning on the experience he gains on his route benefiting him throughout life, especially being a good businessman.

IT'S OPEN HOUSE at Your Church

King of Kings

And there is no finer name for the Great Teacher. He speaks and His words come with authority. There is no court to refer His words for judgement . . . for He is the judgement. He has blessed mankind so richly that we have sought other words to do Him honor; the Great Physician, Shepherd of Souls and Lord of Life. But Handel's Messiah keeps ringing in our ears . . . "King of Kings and Lord of lords. And He shall reign forever and ever." Isaiah looked forward to the coming of this "Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace."

The artist has done us a service in the picture. Christ is destined to reign over His people, over His church, over His world. His throne was a cross spelling sacrifice. His vehicle is the church and His army a company of devout followers. His dominance is within the hearts of men and His forces are Truth, and Goodness and Love. He will triumph through our loyalty and devotion. They stop where you are! Is He regnant in your heart? He is looking to His church, imperfect as it may be, to bring in His Kingdom and to save the world. Won't you join His army, His church today . . . for He is the King of Kings.

You & The Church
The Church & You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of thy Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

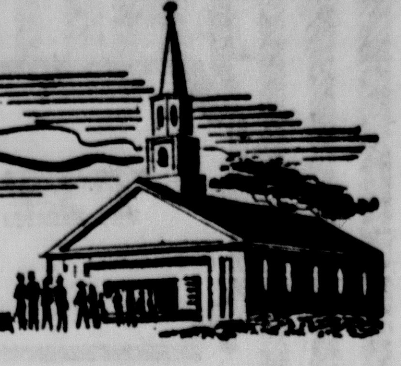
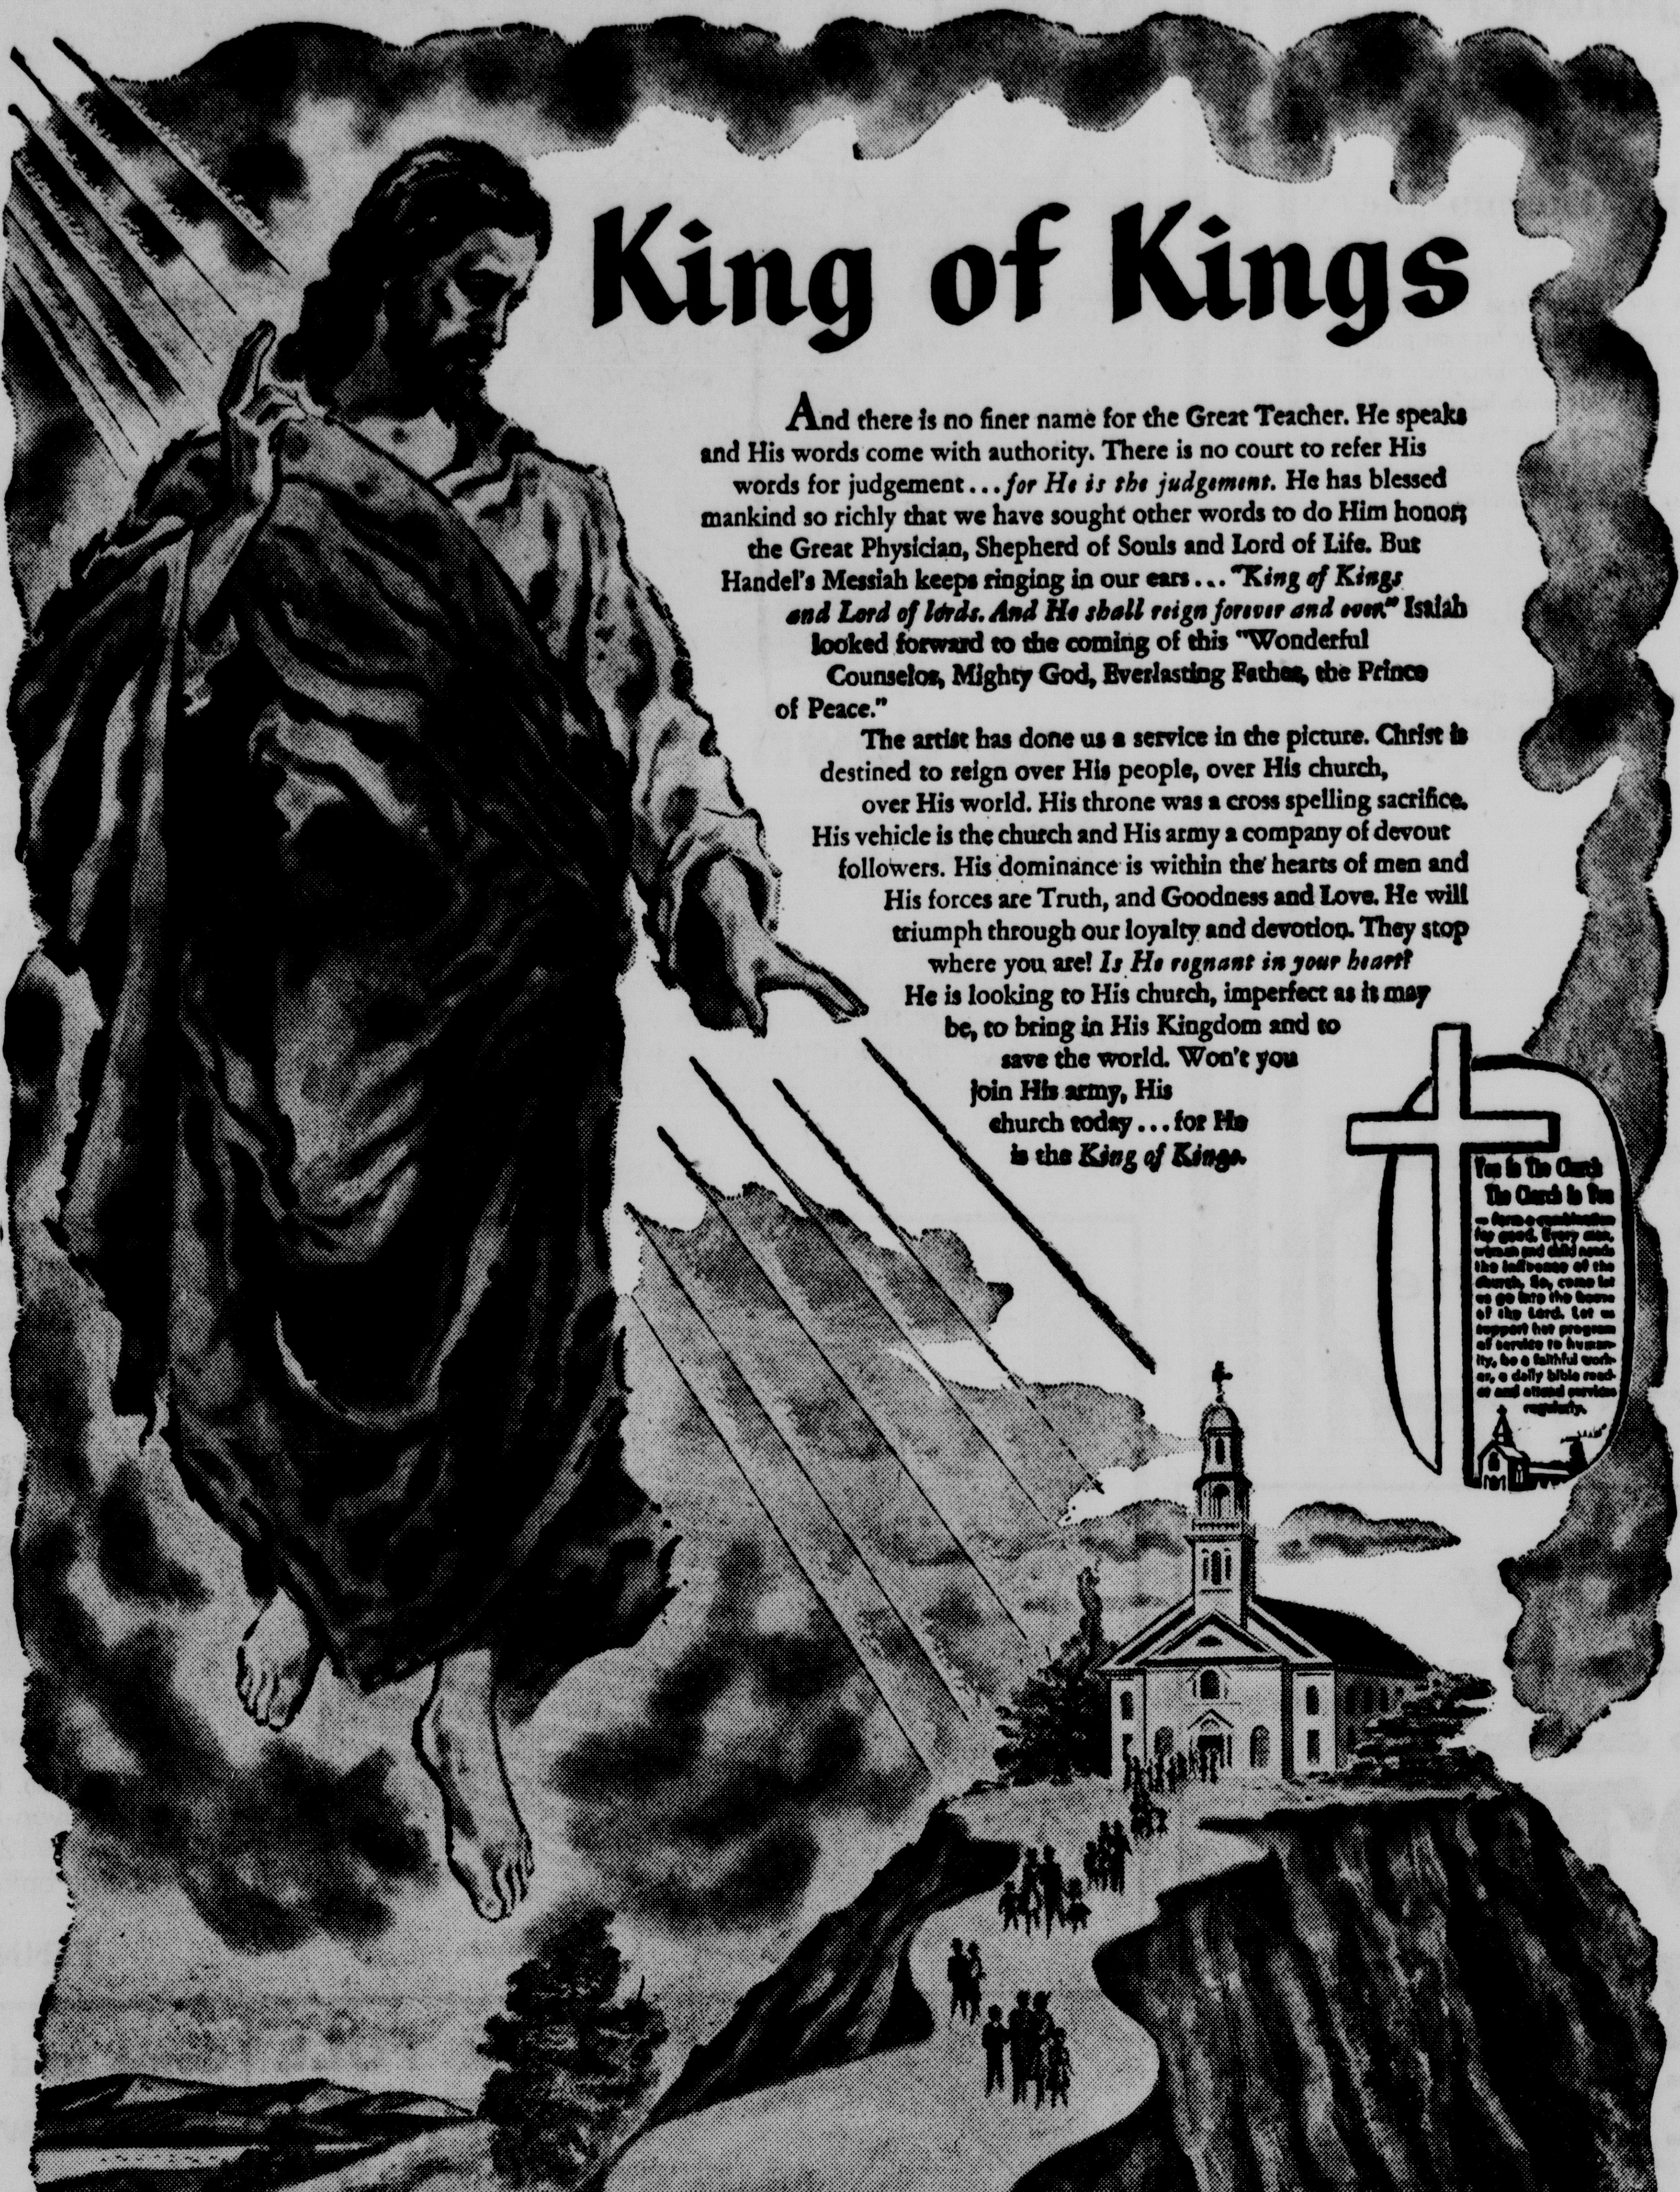
IT'S OPEN HOUSE at Your Church





King of Kings

And there is no finer name for the Great Teacher. He speaks and His words come with authority. There is no court to refer His words for judgement . . . for He is the judgement. He has blessed mankind so richly that we have sought other words to do Him honor; the Great Physician, Shepherd of Souls and Lord of Life. But Handel's Messiah keeps ringing in our ears . . . "King of Kings and Lord of lords. And He shall reign forever and ever." Isaiah looked forward to the coming of this "Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace."

The artist has done us a service in the picture. Christ is destined to reign over His people, over His church, over His world. His throne was a cross spelling sacrifice. His vehicle is the church and His army a company of devout followers. His dominance is within the hearts of men and His forces are Truth, and Goodness and Love. He will triumph through our loyalty and devotion. They stop where you are! Is He regnant in your heart? He is looking to His church, imperfect as it may be, to bring in His Kingdom and to save the world. Won't you join His army, His church today . . . for He is the King of Kings.

You Is The Church
The Church Is You

— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

JEAN MORRISON and her fiance, honored

In prenuptial courtesy to Miss Jean Morrison, daughter of Gov. and Mrs. Frank Morrison, and William Bennett Galloway whose marriage will be solemnized this afternoon, Mr. Galloways' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Galloway of Rockford, Ill., presided at dinner on Friday evening at the University Club.

Wedding

The marriage of Miss LoAnn Cleo Marsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas G. Marsh of Lexington, to Dean Ray Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Anderson, was solemnized Friday evening, June 11, at the Havelock Methodist Chuch.

The attendants, who wore frocks of lavender peau de soie, were Miss Barbara Reier, the maid of honor, and the matron of honor, Mrs. Karen Benker of Hastings.

William Peterson served as best man, and seating the guests were William Klein, Fremont; Elton Edwards, Melvin Hester and John Brown.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Verne Luebbe of North Platte, the bride appeared in a gown of ivory peau de soie. The sculptured bodice was appliqued with pearl-embroidered Alencon lace, and the lace also patterned the front of the slim skirt, continued into an aisle-wide train. A crown of pearls held her illusion veil.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will make their home at 2935 Woodsdale. The bride attended Westmar College, Le Mars, Iowa, and Mr. Anderson is a former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

THEY were brides at church weddings

At a late afternoon service on Friday, June 11, Miss Rosealie Tegley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Tegley, became the bride of James M. Kurtz, son of the Rev. and Mrs. William Kurtz of Loman, Minn. The ceremony was solemnized at the Temple Baptist Church by the Rev. H. E. Garland, assisted by the Rev. Earl Schwenk of Chambers, and Mrs. W. H. Schroeder, organist, played the wedding music. The vocalist was the Rev. Ernest E. Lott.

Miss Velana Hansen, as the maid of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Carolyn Horton, were frocked in pink taffeta, and each carried a single long-stemmed pink rose.

Serving his brother as best man was Bill Kurtz of Loman, Minn., and seating the guests were Bill Westover, International Falls, Minn.; Dwayne Cockroft, Burr Oak, Kan.; William Bathurst, Don Magee and Jack Schroeder.

The bride appeared in a gown of white Chantilly lace over silk. The scalloped neckline of the long-sleeved bodice was highlighted with pearl and sequin embroidery, and the very full skirt continued to touch the floor at the back. Her tiered veil of illusion was held by a pearl crown, and she carried a white Bible clustered with deep pink roses.

Upon their return from a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz will make their home at 4309 Randolph.

Miss Carol Elizabeth Daum of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Daum of Osceola, became the bride of Duane L. Vanderbeek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vanderbeek of Adams, at a candlelight ceremony Friday evening, June 11. The service was solemnized by the Rev. John Stalions at the First Methodist Church in Osceola.

As the maid of honor, Miss Helen Mickey of Lincoln wore an Empire frock of aqua organza over taffeta. Costumed identically were Miss Mary Jane Bott and Miss Margie Ransom of Lincoln, the bridesmaids; and the bridesmatrons, Mrs. Ron Wills, Lincoln, and Mrs. Glen Henkel, Jr., Central City.

Merlyn Vanderbeek, Ann Arbor, Mich., served as best man, and the ushers were Wallace Daum, Chadron, brother of the bride; and the bridegroom's brothers, Kenneth Vanderbeek, Adams, Delmer Vanderbeek and Roger Vanderbeek, Lincoln.

The bride appeared in a gown of traditional white satin. Petal appliques of Alencon lace traced with pearls, pattered the sculptured bodice, which was fashioned with a bateau neckline and elbow sleeves, and the applique motif was repeated on the bell skirt, which was completed by a detachable train. A cap of jewelled lace and silk petals held her silk illusion veil, and she carried an arrangement of white roses and aqua-tinted carnations.

The couple will reside in Lincoln at 6831 Benton, following a trip to Colorado.

The marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Helzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Helzer, to Charles Smith Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell R. Norman of Grand Island, was solemnized Friday evening, June 11, at the Central Christian and Missionary Alilance Church. The Rev. Elmer Murdock read the lines of the service at 7:30 o'colck.

Floor-length frocks of delustered satin in moss rose were worn by the attendants, Miss Velda Ernst of O'Neill, the maid of honor; Miss Barbara Bieger, Miss Linda Federle and Mrs. John Pabst, the bridesmaids; and Miss Becky Helzer, who was her sister's junior bridesmaid.

Serving as best man was E. D. Vannice of Halsey, and the ushers were Jerry Maddox, Glenn Soukop and Allen Soukop, Grand Island; Doug Matzen, St. Edwards; Joseph Mara, Ceresco; and Mark Helzer, brother of the bride.

The bride's gown of white peau de soie was trimmed with appliques of Alencon lace. The lace edged the high rounding neckline of the snug basque, beneath which the silk skirt was caught into back fullness and extended into a chapel train. A queen's crown of pearls held her veil of illusion, and she carried a white Bible showered with gardenias.

Mr. Smith and his bride will reside at 1745 E. The bridegroom is a former student at Kearney State College and the University of Nebraska, where Mrs. Smith has just completed her junior year.

Friday Ceremony

White summer blossoms decorated the chancel of the Franklin Methodist Church Friday evening, June 11, for the wedding of Miss Peggy Anne Doering, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William A. Doering of Franklin, and Reynold Clark McMeen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reynold J. McMeen. The Rev. R. W. Sandsted read the lines of the service.

Mrs. Gil Feis of Great Bend, Kan., as her sister's matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Karen Rutt, Hastings, Miss Cheryl Young, Imperial, and Miss Pam Lipp, Franklin, wore Empire frocks of sage green crepe.

Serving his brother as best man was Robert McMeen of York, and the ushers were Bill Janike, Ron Harris and James Cary, all of Lincoln.

The bride chose white French lace and silk organza for her wedding gown. The snug bodice of lace was designed with fitted, elbow sleeves, and the skirt of organza was completed by a cotillion train.

Mrs. McMeen, a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, will receive her degree from the University of Nebraska in August. The bridegroom is a graduate student at the University of Nebraska and a member of Sigma Chi.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A currently successful woman author seems to be harping on the theory that in order for a woman to be "fulfilled," even though she is a wife and mother, she needs a profession or a job outside her home. You are a "pro," Abby. How do you feel about that?

STAY-AT-HOME MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I am one "pro" who is "con" on that theory. Motherhood (at least until the children are in school all day) is a full-time job. And if it is done properly, it more than "fulfills" a woman. There is no greater responsibility than guiding a life. And no greater reward than the knowledge that you have done it well.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I play cards with a woman whose husband is retired, and believe me, she has my sympathy. Whenever she has the game at her house, her husband is home. I don't know why he chooses me, but he stands directly behind my chair and watches me. I am considered a better-than-average player, and I'm usually pretty lucky, but everytime I play over there I am the big loser. He doesn't say anything, but he makes me so nervous I can't think straight. Is there a nice way I can tell this man not to stand behind my chair when I'm playing?

"BUGGED"

DEAR BUGGED: He'll probably never know he's "bugging" you unless you come right out and tell him so. So call a spade a spade. Dig?

NEWS of the suburban areas

Social amity is apparent in suburbia day after day as our residents gather over a cup of coffee or spread their best linens in the guestroom to welcome visitors from out-of-town.

Although we cannot tell the precise moment when friendship is formed, it has been said that an acquaintance that begins with a compliment is sure to develop into a real friendship. A compliment was recently given to new residents of Meadow Lane when they were welcomed into the neighborhood at a coffee.

MEADOW LANE

Mr. and Mrs. Duke Lichty are the new owners of a home in Meadow Lane. They were apartment dwellers before they moved to East Avon Lane on May 28.

Mrs. Lichty said both she and Mr. Lichty are quite thrilled with their new home and they are also finding that "the neighbors are so friendly." This includes Mr. and Mrs. James Adams, who invited the newcomers to their home for coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Haring and their sons, Brett, two years old; and Greg, nine years old; are new residents at 940 Carlos Dr. They moved from Eastborough on May 15 with the help of Mrs. Haring's mother, Mrs. C. L. Butler, who came from Kansas City to assist in the project. Mrs. Butler returned to her home on May 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Haring had 7230 Eastborough Lane as their address for seven and one-half years but it wasn't too difficult to pull up roots and move to a different location. It is only eight blocks from the old one. In fact, Greg will be able to attend the same school, Meadow Lane, next fall, where he will enter into the fifth grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Haring, Greg and Brett, are leaving for Glasglow, Mo., this afternoon to visit Mr. Haring's mother Mrs. Lester Haring, Mrs. Haring and her sister, Mrs. I. W. Lively, will return to Lincoln on Sunday with the Meadow Lane residents and continue as their houseguests for one week.

Mr. and Mrs. Domenic Fasano, who are former residents of the home now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Haring, now are residing at Dow Air Force Base in Maine.

EASTBOROUGH

Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Mitchell and their sons, Phil, and Neil, are on their way this morning tp Purcell, Okla., for a week of camping and a visit with members of Mr. Mitchell's family.

The central meeting place in Purcell will be at the home of Mr. Mitchell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, but when the group scatters, it will be to fish and play golf.

The two brothers and a sister of Mr. Mitchell, and their families, who are coming from various points for the family get-together are Capt. and Mrs. Phil Mitchell and their children, Dana, Drew, and Donald Graham of Sherman, Tex., Vernon Mitchell of Phoenix, Ariz.; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dollar of Oklahoma City, Okla.

EASTMONT

Houseguests at the home of Mrs. Elsie Peliken and her son, Charles Peliken, were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wilson of Columbus, Ohio and their daughter, Miss Ruth Wilson, a missionary in Sudan, Africa.

Miss Wilson has been visiting with her parents since March but will return to Africa in September.

The visitors arrived in Lincoln on Monday, June 7 after visiting in Minden, Kearney, and at their former home at Axtell. They continued on their way to Columbus on Tuesday.

INDIAN VILLAGE

Residents of Indian Village aren't known to give out war chants unless something disrupting happens to alter the community. But Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kempkes escaped from the friendly neighbors without losing their scalps when they left their residence in Indian Village and moved to 3912 So. 15th St.

THREE
former coeds were brides on Friday

At an 8 o'clock ceremony on Friday evening, June 11, the marriage of Miss Joan Spencer Brown, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Andrew Brown, III, to Phillip Curtis Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl Nelson, was solemnized at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Episcopal. The Rev. William Cross read the lines,

Wearing alike, long-skirted frocks of petal pink silk chiffon over taffeta, the attendants were Miss Brenda Brown, her sister's maid of honor; Miss Angela Cessford of Edinburg, Scotland, and Miss Nancy Nelson of Newport Beach, Calif., sister of the bridegroom. Their brow veils were held in place with a multi-loiped bow of silk organza, and they carried nosegays of pink glamelias.

James Nelson served his brother as best man, and the two groomsmen were William Yungclas of Ames, Iowa, and Larry Long of Milwaukee, Wis. Seating the guests were Boyd Rooney, Marshall Borchert, Ronald Hull, Jerry De Prenger, Eugene Neal and Gerald Nemar.

The bride chose a gown of white peau de soie for her wedding. The Empire bodice, designed with a cameo neckline patterned with appliques of Alencon lace, and elbow-length sleeves, was accented with a border of the lace beneath which the skirt was fashioned in a sheath silhouette. There was back interest in the square cut train which extended into cotillion length. Her bouffant veil of illusion was held to the head by a white peau de soie rose.

Mr. Nelson and his bride will reside at State College, Pa., after June 21. The bride is a graduate of Christian College, Columbia, Mo., and also was graduated from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Mr. Nelson, a University of Nebraska graduate, will be producer-director for Educational Television in State College.

For the wedding of Miss Patricia Ann Johns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence C. Johns, and Wilbur E. Andreson II, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert B. Andreson of Plainville, Kan., which took place on Friday evening, June 11, the chancel of Westminster Presbyterian Church was appointed with pyramids of white gladioli and yellow Majestic daisies, and cathedral candles. The 7:30 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by Dr. Robert Palmer.

Mrs. Thomas Craig of Houston, Tex., was her sister's matron of honor, and the maid of honor was Miss Peggy Sullivan of Grand Island. The fivesome of bridesmaids included Miss Jodeen Mueller of Omaha; Miss Sheila Mosher of Plainville, Kan.; Mrs. Dennis Gold, Miss Susan Cole and Mrs. Harold Madsen. The attendants were costumed identically in silk chiffon over taffeta in the maize tone.

Joe Hambright of Plainville, Kan., served as best man, and seating the guests were Steven Petsch of Columbus; Russell Taylor of Bellevue; Jerry Hunt Jr., Robert Schultz, Charles Elliott and James Nelson.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of re-embroidered Alencon lace and silk organza over taffeta. The Empire bodice, designed with a portrait neckline and elbow-length sleeves, was snugly fitted above the long, A-line skirt which was given back interest by means of the detachable organza-over-taffeta train which extended into cotillion length. Her tiered, bouffant veil was held in place with a rose of gown-matching fabric, ornamented with pearls. Her bouquet was fashioned of Marguerite daisies and white carnations.

The bride is a graduating senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Mr. Andreson is attending the University of Nebraska College of Dentistry, and is a member of Phi Delta Theta and Xi Psi Phi.

Arrangements of white blossoms appointed the chancel of the Fairhill Presbyterian Church where the marriage of Miss Barbara Shuman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Shuman, to J. Murry Shaeffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Shaeffer of Grand Island was solemnized at 7 o'clock on Friday evening, June 11. The Rev. J. Dallas Gibson read the lines of the service and Mrs. Richard T. Hill played the wedding music. Miss Carole Peterson was the vocal soloist.

The attendants, frocked alike in long-skirted sheaths of mint-green silk crepe, were Mrs. Paul Krugens, the matron of honor; Miss Patricia Shuman, who was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids Miss Sarra Shaeffer of Grand Island; Miss Ann Shuman of Bellevue, and Mrs. Robert Masters. Their briefly veiled hair ornaments matched the tone of their frocks, and they carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums and pink feathered carnations.

Peter Shaeffer served as best man, and the ushers were Harry Young of Wichita, Kan; Gery Sup of Albion; Terry Vogt of Staplehurst; Steve Davis of Syracuse, and James Wiest.

The bride appeared in a gown of silk-faced peau de soie in the antique white shade. Delicate patterns of jewelled peau d'ange lace ornamented the Empire bodice and the long, bell-shaped skirt, and the lace was repeated to accent the Empire line at the back and to drift into a chapel train. A pillbox hat of roses and rose petals held to the head her bouffant veil of silk illusion, she carried a cascade bouquet of pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. Shaeffer and his bride will reside in Lincoln. Both are students at the University of Nebraska where the bride is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, and where Mr. Shaeffer is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

A compliment was recently given to new residents of Meadow Lane when they were welcomed into the neighborhood at a coffee.

MEADOW LANE

Mr. and Mrs. Duke Lichty are the new owners of a home in Meadow Lane. They were apartment dwellers before they moved to East Avon Lane on May 28.

Mrs. Lichty said both she and Mr. Lichty are quite thrilled with their new home and they are also finding that "the neighbors are so friendly." This includes Mr. and Mrs. James Adams, who invited the newcomers to their home for coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Haring and their sons, Brett, two years old; and Greg, nine years old; are new residents at 940 Carlos Dr. They moved from Eastborough on May 15 with the help of Mrs. Haring's mother, Mrs. C. L. Butler, who came from Kansas City to assist in the project. Mrs. Butler returned to her home on May 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Haring had 7230 Eastborough Lane as their address for seven and one-half years but it wasn't too difficult to pull up roots and move to a different location. It is only eight blocks from the old one. In fact, Greg will be able to attend the same school, Meadow Lane, next fall, where he will enter into the fifth grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Haring, Greg and Brett, are leaving for Glasglow, Mo., this afternoon to visit Mr. Haring's mother Mrs. Lester Haring, Mrs. Haring and her sister, Mrs. I. W. Lively, will return to Lincoln on Sunday with the Meadow Lane residents and continue as their houseguests for one week.

Mr. and Mrs. Domenic Fasano, who are former residents of the home now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Haring, now are residing at Dow Air Force Base in Maine.

EASTBOROUGH

Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Mitchell and their sons, Phil, and Neil, are on their way this morning tp Purcell, Okla., for a week of camping and a visit with members of Mr. Mitchell's family.

The central meeting place in Purcell will be at the home of Mr. Mitchell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, but when the group scatters, it will be to fish and play golf.

The two brothers and a sister of Mr. Mitchell, and their families, who are coming from various points for the family get-together are Capt. and Mrs. Phil Mitchell and their children, Dana, Drew, and Donald Graham of Sherman, Tex., Vernon Mitchell of Phoenix, Ariz.; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dollar of Oklahoma City, Okla.

EASTMONT

Houseguests at the home of Mrs. Elsie Peliken and her son, Charles Peliken, were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wilson of Columbus, Ohio and their daughter, Miss Ruth Wilson, a missionary in Sudan, Africa.

Miss Wilson has been visiting with her parents since March but will return to Africa in September.

The visitors arrived in Lincoln on Monday, June 7 after visiting in Minden, Kearney, and at their former home at Axtell. They continued on their way to Columbus on Tuesday.

INDIAN VILLAGE

Residents of Indian Village aren't known to give out war chants unless something disrupting happens to alter the community. But Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kempkes escaped from the friendly neighbors without losing their scalps when they left their residence in Indian Village and moved to 3912 So. 15th St.

THREE
former coeds were brides on Friday

At an 8 o'clock ceremony on Friday evening, June 11, the marriage of Miss Joan Spencer Brown, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Andrew Brown, III, to Phillip Curtis Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl Nelson, was solemnized at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Episcopal. The Rev. William Cross read the lines,

Wearing alike, long-skirted frocks of petal pink silk chiffon over taffeta, the attendants were Miss Brenda Brown, her sister's maid of honor; Miss Angela Cessford of Edinburg, Scotland, and Miss Nancy Nelson of Newport Beach, Calif., sister of the bridegroom. Their brow veils were held in place with a multi-loiped bow of silk organza, and they carried nosegays of pink glamelias.

James Nelson served his brother as best man, and the two groomsmen were William Yungclas of Ames, Iowa, and Larry Long of Milwaukee, Wis. Seating the guests were Boyd Rooney, Marshall Borchert, Ronald Hull, Jerry De Prenger, Eugene Neal and Gerald Nemar.

The bride chose a gown of white peau de soie for her wedding. The Empire bodice, designed with a cameo neckline patterned with appliques of Alencon lace, and elbow-length sleeves, was accented with a border of the lace beneath which the skirt was fashioned in a sheath silhouette. There was back interest in the square cut train which extended into cotillion length. Her bouffant veil of illusion was held to the head by a white peau de soie rose.

Mr. Nelson and his bride will reside at State College, Pa., after June 21. The bride is a graduate of Christian College, Columbia, Mo., and also was graduated from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Mr. Nelson, a University of Nebraska graduate, will be producer-director for Educational Television in State College.

For the wedding of Miss Patricia Ann Johns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence C. Johns, and Wilbur E. Andreson II, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert B. Andreson of Plainville, Kan., which took place on Friday evening, June 11, the chancel of Westminster Presbyterian Church was appointed with pyramids of white gladioli and yellow Majestic daisies, and cathedral candles. The 7:30 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by Dr. Robert Palmer.

Mrs. Thomas Craig of Houston, Tex., was her sister's matron of honor, and the maid of honor was Miss Peggy Sullivan of Grand Island. The fivesome of bridesmaids included Miss Jodeen Mueller of Omaha; Miss Sheila Mosher of Plainville, Kan.; Mrs. Dennis Gold, Miss Susan Cole and Mrs. Harold Madsen. The attendants were costumed identically in silk chiffon over taffeta in the maize tone.

Joe Hambright of Plainville, Kan., served as best man, and seating the guests were Steven Petsch of Columbus; Russell Taylor of Bellevue; Jerry Hunt Jr., Robert Schultz, Charles Elliott and James Nelson.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of re-embroidered Alencon lace and silk organza over taffeta. The Empire bodice, designed with a portrait neckline and elbow-length sleeves, was snugly fitted above the long, A-line skirt which was given back interest by means of the detachable organza-over-taffeta train which extended into cotillion length. Her tiered, bouffant veil was held in place with a rose of gown-matching fabric, ornamented with pearls. Her bouquet was fashioned of Marguerite daisies and white carnations.

The bride is a graduating senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Mr. Andreson is attending the University of Nebraska College of Dentistry, and is a member of Phi Delta Theta and Xi Psi Phi.

Arrangements of white blossoms appointed the chancel of the Fairhill Presbyterian Church where the marriage of Miss Barbara Shuman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Shuman, to J. Murry Shaeffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Shaeffer of Grand Island was solemnized at 7 o'clock on Friday evening, June 11. The Rev. J. Dallas Gibson read the lines of the service and Mrs. Richard T. Hill played the wedding music. Miss Carole Peterson was the vocal soloist.

The attendants, frocked alike in long-skirted sheaths of mint-green silk crepe, were Mrs. Paul Krugens, the matron of honor; Miss Patricia Shuman, who was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids Miss Sarra Shaeffer of Grand Island; Miss Ann Shuman of Bellevue, and Mrs. Robert Masters. Their briefly veiled hair ornaments matched the tone of their frocks, and they carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums and pink feathered carnations.

Peter Shaeffer served as best man, and the ushers were Harry Young of Wichita, Kan; Gery Sup of Albion; Terry Vogt of Staplehurst; Steve Davis of Syracuse, and James Wiest.

The bride appeared in a gown of silk-faced peau de soie in the antique white shade. Delicate patterns of jewelled peau d'ange lace ornamented the Empire bodice and the long, bell-shaped skirt, and the lace was repeated to accent the Empire line at the back and to drift into a chapel train. A pillbox hat of roses and rose petals held to the head her bouffant veil of silk illusion, she carried a cascade bouquet of pink sweetheart roses.

Mr. Shaeffer and his bride will reside in Lincoln. Both are students at the University of Nebraska where the bride is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, and where Mr. Shaeffer is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Nelson.

If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. Olympic Meeting May Rekindle Group Feud

. . . BATTLE STAGE SET

Chicago (AP) — The United States Olympic Committee meets this weekend to study plans for the 1968 Olympiad at Mexico City, but the special session might result in more throat-cutting between the Amateur Athletic Association and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

General intent of the two-day session starting Saturday is to revamp the complex organizational structure which marshals American athletes for the world games.

However, the battle between the AAU and NCAA over sanctioning amateur competition could keep the Olympic committee president, Kenneth Tug Wilson, hopping in a referee's role.

The major item of the agenda is a proposal by one of the USOC's 174 aiding organizations, the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen. It would give internationally-recognized U.S. governing groups majority membership on each of the various games committees handling some 20 Olympic sports.

The rowing group wants to control its own games committee, supervising a sport in which the AAU and NCAA has small interest.

But the over-all results would shatter evenly-matched representation by the AAU and NCAA on such important games committees as track and field.

On the games track committee, the AAU and NCAA have nine members each and the armed forces four. In basketball, it's eight each for the AAU and NCAA and four for the armed forces. In gymnastics, the breakdown is 6-6-1.

A majority vote of about 240 expected delegates is needed to approve the proposal, already accepted by the USOC board of directors 27-11 last month.

Approval would further split battle lines already bristling over the NCAA's boycott of the National AAU track meet at San Diego, Calif., June 25-26.

There is some talk of a possible walkout by the NCAA.

The AAU-NCAA standoff was rekindled Friday when the two top AAU officials, President Cliff Buck of Denver and Executive Director Don Hull, rejected a peace feeler from NCAA President Everett D. Barnes on the track meet hassle.

Barnes said a ban on under-graduate collegians would be lifted if the AAU granted "permission for NCAA certification and U.S. Track and Field Federation sanction" of the meet.

Buck and Hull reported, in effect, that's just where the NCAA came into the whole squabble long ago.

"If the NCAA can have the right to share sanction with an organization (AAU) which has sole recognition by the International Amateur Athletic Federation, so could each of the four military services, the NAIA, the YMCA and the high schools," Hull said.

"It is completely impractical and contrary to our existing rule which does not permit multiple or dual sanctioning."

Buck said any public criticism of failure of top collegians to compete in the AAU track meet, necessary to win berths on the U.S. team which meets Russia at Diev July 30-31, must be borne by the NCAA.

"It was the NCAA, in convention action last January, which passed this rule which keep undergraduates out of AAU meets lacking co-sanction by the NCAA," said Buck.

—IN WAR WITH AAU—

NCAA Offers Dual Sanction

New York (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association extended a tentative olive branch Friday to the Amateur Athletic Union in their wrangle over control of amateur sports in America, but the AAU spurned it.

At the heart of the current hassle is whether the United States will send the best possible track team to Moscow to compete against Russia or whether it will lose the services of such collegiate stars as Randy Matson, world's greatest shot putter; Gerry Lindgren, the sensational young distance runner, Bob Day, Larry Questad, Jerry Cerulla, Jon Reimer, and others.

The American team will be made up of the first two finishers in each event at the AAU championships in San Diego June 26-27. The collegians can't compete unless the NCAA and its United States Track and Field Federation sanctions the meet. Sanction means giving it formal approval.

The NCAA president, Everett D. Barnes of Colgate, made the peace offer in an open letter to news media:

"Members of the NCAA are perfectly free to enter their student-athletes in any track meet, including those conducted by the AAU. The only requirement is that the AAU grant permission for NCAA certification and USTFF sanction of such meet. In like fashion, the NCAA and other USTFF members are perfectly willing to welcome AAU sanction of their meets in which AAU members compete."

Barnes thus invited cooperative sanctioning wherein "each organization respects the rights of the other to approve the conditions of its own members' participation."

But the AAU was not interested.

In Chicago, where he will attend an Olympic Committee meeting, Cliff Buck of Denver, AAU president, declared "it is more accurate to say that the NCAA by its convention action in January is keeping undergraduates out of the AAU meet."

The convention action barred competition in meets unless sanctioned by the USTFF.

Said Col. Don Hull, executive director of the AAU: "It is a basic principle that there can only be one governing body. The NCAA proposal is contrary to an existing rule which does not permit dual sanctioning."

There was even a hint that the NCAA might approve the AAU meet whether the AAU likes it or not.

"It is the insistence of the AAU in preserving an exclusivity in domestic affairs to which it is not entitled which restricts freedom of participation by every legitimate element of this country's track and field resources. Neither the NCAA nor the USTFF will withhold certification and sanction of the AAU championship."

Buckeyes Even Count Against Arizona State

Durant Effort Gives 7-3 Win

. . . FINALS TONIGHT

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Omaha—Ohio State lefthander John Durant stopped Arizona State's heavy hitting Sun Devils on a six-hitter to keep the Buckeyes' chances alive in the College World Series with a 7-3 victory here Friday night before 10,344 fans at Rosenblatt Stadium.

Durant, in winning his second game of the series, handed Arizona State its first loss in the College World Series and only its eighth setback in 61 games this season.

The two teams will meet for the championship at 8 p.m. tonight with Ohio State hoping to become the third Big Ten team in the past four years to win the National Collegiate baseball title.

Michigan won in 1962 and Minnesota last year.

The Buckeyes rapped two Arizona State pitchers for nine hits, stopping the Sun Devils to avenge an earlier 9-4 loss Wednesday night.

Three runs in the fourth inning sewed up the Ohio State victory and gave the Buckeyes a 30-12 record going into tonight's championship game.

Ohio State got to Sun Devils' starter Ron Lea for a solo run in the bottom of the first when Jim Graham led off with a single, was sacrificed to second and scored on an error by Arizona State first baseman Jan Kleinman.

The Buckeyes boosted their lead to 4-0 in the fourth on an infield single by football all-American Arnold Chonko and singles by Russ Nagelson, Chuck Brinkman and Durant sandwiched around two strikeouts.

The winners added two more in the fifth and another in the eighth.

Arizona State didn't score until the top of the fifth when Luis Lagunas led off with a double and scored on a sacrifice fly by Ray Stadler.

The lusty-hitting Sun Devils added two more in the seventh on a single by San Bando, another single by Lagunas and a double by Stadler that scored both Bando and Lagunas.

Friday night's crowd of 10,344 pushed the total attendance mark to 40,196. A turnout of 12,000 is needed tonight to get the 1965 attendance figures into second place in the attendance standings in the 16 years that the tourney has been held in Omaha.

Hergenrader Will Ponder Chisox Bid

Nebraska left-hander Bob Hergenrader, who was drafted at the Class A level by the Chicago White Sox in the vast new baseball draft, is not certain whether he'll sign a professional contract or not.

Hergenrader, who is working in Lincoln this summer and plans to pitch in the Elks League, said he wouldn't know until he finds out how much money the White Sox might offer him.

Hergenrader, who compiled a 4-2 record and a 2.36 earned run average this spring for Tony Sharpe's Cornhuskers, has been talked to by scouts before.

And at one time he turned down a sizeable bonus from the Kansas City Athletics.

The draft was so swift and so vast Hergenrader was not aware he had been selected until reporters told him Friday afternoon.

A check with Chicago farm director Glen Miller revealed that Hergenrader went in the 24th round in the Chicago picks. The White Sox drafted a total of 41 players, a figure Miller described as average.

"Some clubs drafted only 30," Miller said, "but some took as many as 72." Miller named Houston and Baltimore as a couple of clubs which took the large amounts.

Miller said the scouts and club officials would sit down next week and discuss all phases of the draft and attempt to determine how much each player is worth.

Hergenrader indicated that if an offer were substantial enough, he would be willing to sign now in as much as he could pick up the couple of semesters he has remaining during the off seasons.

Should Hergenrader sign and should Stan Bahnsen, who was drafted in the fourth round by New York, a potential Big Eight title club for Nebraska next spring would come close to being squelched.

Aaron Takes Halfway Lead In Cleveland Golf

. . . LEMA FALLS TWO BEHIND

Cleveland (AP) — Tommy Aaron, 28-year-old Georgia pro, took the half-way lead in the $125,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament Friday by carding a four-under-par 67.

Aaron's 135 total for 36 holes was seven under par and two strokes better than defending champion Tony Lema and Gordon Jones, a former Ohioan who plays out of Orlando, Fla.

Jones turned in the day's best round, a 66, to go with his even par 71 Thursday. He birdied five holes on Highland Park's 6,821-yard front nine for a 31.

U.S. Open titlist Ken Venturi failed to make the cutoff when he finished with a 76-74—150.

Lema dropped in a 12-foot putt on the final hole for a 70. He shot a 67 Thursday to share the lead with Billy Casper.

But Casper had alarm clock trouble Friday, arrived at the course only 10 minutes before tee time, had no time to warm up and soared to a 73 for a 140 total.

Still in contention at 138 were Dan Sikes, who shot a 70, and Bert Weaver, who matched Aaron's 67. Randy Glover had a 70 for a 139 total, while Mason Rudolph, Larry Mowry, Julius Boros and Don Stickney were bunched at 140 along with Casper.

At least a dozen others were bracketed at 141, including Arnold Palmer, who scored a one-under 70.

Aaron rode to the top on the strength of some fancy putting. He holed a 70-footer on No. 2 and a 30-footer on No. 11 for two of his five birdies. His one bad hole came on the 464-yard No. 3 when he drove into the rough and then was short of the green.

Jones needed only 12 putts on the front nine and finished with 27 for the day.

A score of 146 or better was needed to make the cutoff for the final 36 holes.

PGA champion Bobby Nichols barely survived the cut by shooting a 71 for a 146. Among those who failed were Tommy Bolt, Gardner Dickinson, Tommy Jacobs and Doug Sanders.

—CLEMENTE, MAZEROSKI—

Pirates Get Lift From Latecomers

Pittsburgh (AP) — Who is responsible for the sudden surge of the Pittsburgh Pirates, victors in 18 of their last 20 games?

"The return of Roberto Clemente and Billy Mazeroski changed the thinking of the club," says General Manager Joe L. Brown.

"Everybody was pressing during our long losing streap. Our pitching was good but we weren't able to hit with men on base.

"With Clemente and Mazeroski in the line-up now everyone is relaxed. They know if Clemente or Mazeroski don't come through, the next man will.

"Actually Andre Rodgers got us off on the right foot in the few games he filled in at shortstop. Now he's sitting on the bench along with two of the club's top hitters—Gene Freese and Jerry Lynch.

"Within a few days after Mazeroski got back into the line-up the club started to move. Clemente was sidelined for the early part of the season with malaria, He was weak. He's got his strength back now and his bat is singing."

There's been a combination of other things — like Bob Veale, Vernon Law, Willie Stargell, Billy Virdon and Gene Alley to mention a few other names, Brown pointed out.

"We got only five runs for Law in the first five games and he lost every one. He's won the last four and I don't detect anything different in his pitching. Veale has been tremendous all year. He's completed his last five games.

"Stargell was struggling with an .187 average the day the Pirates lost their eighth straight game on May 20. Now he's hitting .287 with 13 home runs, second only to Willie Mays. In the last 20 games he's hit for something like .384.

"The entire club has jelled. Billy Virdon is hitting well So is Don Clendenon. Our pitching has been excellent. We were 13 games out of first place in May. Right now we're in fifth place only 5½ games off the pace.

"Most important don't forget the field management. Harry Walker and his coaching staff have done a tremendous job. Sure, they were unhappy with the losing streak but they never got discouraged."

Olympic Meeting May Rekindle Group Feud

. . . BATTLE STAGE SET

Chicago (AP) — The United States Olympic Committee meets this weekend to study plans for the 1968 Olympiad at Mexico City, but the special session might result in more throat-cutting between the Amateur Athletic Association and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

General intent of the two-day session starting Saturday is to revamp the complex organizational structure which marshals American athletes for the world games.

However, the battle between the AAU and NCAA over sanctioning amateur competition could keep the Olympic committee president, Kenneth Tug Wilson, hopping in a referee's role.

The major item of the agenda is a proposal by one of the USOC's 174 aiding organizations, the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen. It would give internationally-recognized U.S. governing groups majority membership on each of the various games committees handling some 20 Olympic sports.

The rowing group wants to control its own games committee, supervising a sport in which the AAU and NCAA has small interest.

But the over-all results would shatter evenly-matched representation by the AAU and NCAA on such important games committees as track and field.

On the games track committee, the AAU and NCAA have nine members each and the armed forces four. In basketball, it's eight each for the AAU and NCAA and four for the armed forces. In gymnastics, the breakdown is 6-6-1.

A majority vote of about 240 expected delegates is needed to approve the proposal, already accepted by the USOC board of directors 27-11 last month.

Approval would further split battle lines already bristling over the NCAA's boycott of the National AAU track meet at San Diego, Calif., June 25-26.

There is some talk of a possible walkout by the NCAA.

The AAU-NCAA standoff was rekindled Friday when the two top AAU officials, President Cliff Buck of Denver and Executive Director Don Hull, rejected a peace feeler from NCAA President Everett D. Barnes on the track meet hassle.

Barnes said a ban on under-graduate collegians would be lifted if the AAU granted "permission for NCAA certification and U.S. Track and Field Federation sanction" of the meet.

Buck and Hull reported, in effect, that's just where the NCAA came into the whole squabble long ago.

"If the NCAA can have the right to share sanction with an organization (AAU) which has sole recognition by the International Amateur Athletic Federation, so could each of the four military services, the NAIA, the YMCA and the high schools," Hull said.

"It is completely impractical and contrary to our existing rule which does not permit multiple or dual sanctioning."

Buck said any public criticism of failure of top collegians to compete in the AAU track meet, necessary to win berths on the U.S. team which meets Russia at Diev July 30-31, must be borne by the NCAA.

"It was the NCAA, in convention action last January, which passed this rule which keep undergraduates out of AAU meets lacking co-sanction by the NCAA," said Buck.

—IN WAR WITH AAU—

NCAA Offers Dual Sanction

New York (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association extended a tentative olive branch Friday to the Amateur Athletic Union in their wrangle over control of amateur sports in America, but the AAU spurned it.

At the heart of the current hassle is whether the United States will send the best possible track team to Moscow to compete against Russia or whether it will lose the services of such collegiate stars as Randy Matson, world's greatest shot putter; Gerry Lindgren, the sensational young distance runner, Bob Day, Larry Questad, Jerry Cerulla, Jon Reimer, and others.

The American team will be made up of the first two finishers in each event at the AAU championships in San Diego June 26-27. The collegians can't compete unless the NCAA and its United States Track and Field Federation sanctions the meet. Sanction means giving it formal approval.

The NCAA president, Everett D. Barnes of Colgate, made the peace offer in an open letter to news media:

"Members of the NCAA are perfectly free to enter their student-athletes in any track meet, including those conducted by the AAU. The only requirement is that the AAU grant permission for NCAA certification and USTFF sanction of such meet. In like fashion, the NCAA and other USTFF members are perfectly willing to welcome AAU sanction of their meets in which AAU members compete."

Barnes thus invited cooperative sanctioning wherein "each organization respects the rights of the other to approve the conditions of its own members' participation."

But the AAU was not interested.

In Chicago, where he will attend an Olympic Committee meeting, Cliff Buck of Denver, AAU president, declared "it is more accurate to say that the NCAA by its convention action in January is keeping undergraduates out of the AAU meet."

The convention action barred competition in meets unless sanctioned by the USTFF.

Said Col. Don Hull, executive director of the AAU: "It is a basic principle that there can only be one governing body. The NCAA proposal is contrary to an existing rule which does not permit dual sanctioning."

There was even a hint that the NCAA might approve the AAU meet whether the AAU likes it or not.

"It is the insistence of the AAU in preserving an exclusivity in domestic affairs to which it is not entitled which restricts freedom of participation by every legitimate element of this country's track and field resources. Neither the NCAA nor the USTFF will withhold certification and sanction of the AAU championship."

Buckeyes Even Count Against Arizona State

Durant Effort Gives 7-3 Win

. . . FINALS TONIGHT

By HAL BROWN

Omaha—Ohio State lefthander John Durant stopped Arizona State's heavy hitting Sun Devils on a six-hitter to keep the Buckeyes' chances alive in the College World Series with a 7-3 victory here Friday night before 10,344 fans at Rosenblatt Stadium.

Durant, in winning his second game of the series, handed Arizona State its first loss in the College World Series and only its eighth setback in 61 games this season.

The two teams will meet for the championship at 8 p.m. tonight with Ohio State hoping to become the third Big Ten team in the past four years to win the National Collegiate baseball title.

Michigan won in 1962 and Minnesota last year.

The Buckeyes rapped two Arizona State pitchers for nine hits, stopping the Sun Devils to avenge an earlier 9-4 loss Wednesday night.

Three runs in the fourth inning sewed up the Ohio State victory and gave the Buckeyes a 30-12 record going into tonight's championship game.

Ohio State got to Sun Devils' starter Ron Lea for a solo run in the bottom of the first when Jim Graham led off with a single, was sacrificed to second and scored on an error by Arizona State first baseman Jan Kleinman.

The Buckeyes boosted their lead to 4-0 in the fourth on an infield single by football all-American Arnold Chonko and singles by Russ Nagelson, Chuck Brinkman and Durant sandwiched around two strikeouts.

The winners added two more in the fifth and another in the eighth.

Arizona State didn't score until the top of the fifth when Luis Lagunas led off with a double and scored on a sacrifice fly by Ray Stadler.

The lusty-hitting Sun Devils added two more in the seventh on a single by San Bando, another single by Lagunas and a double by Stadler that scored both Bando and Lagunas.

Friday night's crowd of 10,344 pushed the total attendance mark to 40,196. A turnout of 12,000 is needed tonight to get the 1965 attendance figures into second place in the attendance standings in the 16 years that the tourney has been held in Omaha.

Hergenrader Will Ponder Chisox Bid

Nebraska left-hander Bob Hergenrader, who was drafted at the Class A level by the Chicago White Sox in the vast new baseball draft, is not certain whether he'll sign a professional contract or not.

Hergenrader, who is working in Lincoln this summer and plans to pitch in the Elks League, said he wouldn't know until he finds out how much money the White Sox might offer him.

Hergenrader, who compiled a 4-2 record and a 2.36 earned run average this spring for Tony Sharpe's Cornhuskers, has been talked to by scouts before.

And at one time he turned down a sizeable bonus from the Kansas City Athletics.

The draft was so swift and so vast Hergenrader was not aware he had been selected until reporters told him Friday afternoon.

A check with Chicago farm director Glen Miller revealed that Hergenrader went in the 24th round in the Chicago picks. The White Sox drafted a total of 41 players, a figure Miller described as average.

"Some clubs drafted only 30," Miller said, "but some took as many as 72." Miller named Houston and Baltimore as a couple of clubs which took the large amounts.

Miller said the scouts and club officials would sit down next week and discuss all phases of the draft and attempt to determine how much each player is worth.

Hergenrader indicated that if an offer were substantial enough, he would be willing to sign now in as much as he could pick up the couple of semesters he has remaining during the off seasons.

Should Hergenrader sign and should Stan Bahnsen, who was drafted in the fourth round by New York, a potential Big Eight title club for Nebraska next spring would come close to being squelched.

Aaron Takes Halfway Lead In Cleveland Golf

. . . LEMA FALLS TWO BEHIND

Cleveland (AP) — Tommy Aaron, 28-year-old Georgia pro, took the half-way lead in the $125,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament Friday by carding a four-under-par 67.

Aaron's 135 total for 36 holes was seven under par and two strokes better than defending champion Tony Lema and Gordon Jones, a former Ohioan who plays out of Orlando, Fla.

Jones turned in the day's best round, a 66, to go with his even par 71 Thursday. He birdied five holes on Highland Park's 6,821-yard front nine for a 31.

U.S. Open titlist Ken Venturi failed to make the cutoff when he finished with a 76-74—150.

Lema dropped in a 12-foot putt on the final hole for a 70. He shot a 67 Thursday to share the lead with Billy Casper.

But Casper had alarm clock trouble Friday, arrived at the course only 10 minutes before tee time, had no time to warm up and soared to a 73 for a 140 total.

Still in contention at 138 were Dan Sikes, who shot a 70, and Bert Weaver, who matched Aaron's 67. Randy Glover had a 70 for a 139 total, while Mason Rudolph, Larry Mowry, Julius Boros and Don Stickney were bunched at 140 along with Casper.

At least a dozen others were bracketed at 141, including Arnold Palmer, who scored a one-under 70.

Aaron rode to the top on the strength of some fancy putting. He holed a 70-footer on No. 2 and a 30-footer on No. 11 for two of his five birdies. His one bad hole came on the 464-yard No. 3 when he drove into the rough and then was short of the green.

Jones needed only 12 putts on the front nine and finished with 27 for the day.

A score of 146 or better was needed to make the cutoff for the final 36 holes.

PGA champion Bobby Nichols barely survived the cut by shooting a 71 for a 146. Among those who failed were Tommy Bolt, Gardner Dickinson, Tommy Jacobs and Doug Sanders.

—CLEMENTE, MAZEROSKI—

Pirates Get Lift From Latecomers

Pittsburgh (AP) — Who is responsible for the sudden surge of the Pittsburgh Pirates, victors in 18 of their last 20 games?

"The return of Roberto Clemente and Billy Mazeroski changed the thinking of the club," says General Manager Joe L. Brown.

"Everybody was pressing during our long losing streap. Our pitching was good but we weren't able to hit with men on base.

"With Clemente and Mazeroski in the line-up now everyone is relaxed. They know if Clemente or Mazeroski don't come through, the next man will.

"Actually Andre Rodgers got us off on the right foot in the few games he filled in at shortstop. Now he's sitting on the bench along with two of the club's top hitters—Gene Freese and Jerry Lynch.

"Within a few days after Mazeroski got back into the line-up the club started to move. Clemente was sidelined for the early part of the season with malaria, He was weak. He's got his strength back now and his bat is singing."

There's been a combination of other things — like Bob Veale, Vernon Law, Willie Stargell, Billy Yirdon and Gene Alley to mention a few other names, Brown pointed out.

"We got only five runs for Law in the first five games and he lost every one. He's won the last four and I don't detect anything different in his pitching. Veale has been tremendous all year. He's completed his last five games.

"Stargell was struggling with an .187 average the day the Pirates lost their eighth straight game on May 20. Now he's hitting .287 with 13 home runs, second only to Willie Mays. In the last 20 games he's hit for something like .384.

"The entire club has jelled. Billy Virdon is hitting well So is Don Clendenon. Our pitching has been excellent. We were 13 games out of first place in May. Right now we're in fifth place only 5½ games off the pace.

"Most important don't forget the field management. Harry Walker and his coaching staff have done a tremendous job. Sure, they were unhappy with the losing streak but they never got discouraged."

Bueford Bailey Wins 3rd State Doubles Crown

Doniphan (AP)— Bueford Bailey of Big Springs won his third Nebraska state doubles championship Friday at the state trapshoot. He had previously won in 1958 and 1962.

Bailey, with a 96 Friday, beat Bill Johnson of Loomis, the defending champion, by one target.

Bailey will defend his singles title Saturday. If he wins again he could make it a triple by taking the state handicap title Sunday.

Ruth Justice of Wauneta took the state women's championship in the doubles with 70/100 and Ken Sedlecky of Alvo retained the professional title with 97/100.

Other winners were:

Out of state ladies doubles: Gladys Pfost, Phillipsburg, Kan., 76/100.

State junior doubles: Jim Columbo, Omaha, 93/100.

Class champions: A, John Voss, Omaha, 95x100; B, John Morehead, Falls City, 94x100; C, Max Weller, Gibbon, 93x100; D, Elmer Vanous, David City, 85x100.

Ticket Orders Booming For NU Football Games

The University of Nebraska's enlarged Memorial Stadium may not be big enough to seat all the fans who want to follow the Cornhuskers' football games this fall.

Ticket manager Jim Pittenger reported to the Board of Regents Friday that the Wisconsin and Kansas games have probably reached the sellout stage already.

Pittenger told the board that 50,000 of the 52,450 seats in the stadium will be reserved seats and that 40,000 will probably go to season ticket holders. Faculty and student ticket holders are counted in that group.

The regents were told that there are 7,500 new season ticket orders on hand. Deadline for previous ticketholders to re-order their seats for 1965 was Thursday.

Ticket Manager Given New Duties

James (Jim) Pittenger, presently ticket dirfector and administrative assistant at the University of Nebraska, was given the added duties of assistant director of athletics in action taken by the University Board of Regents Friday.

The Regents also accepteed the resignations of Equipment Manager Floyd Bottorff and Assistant Director of Athletics and Director of Concessions L. F. (Pop) Klein.

WASHINGTON'S HODGES FELLED BY LINE DRIVE

Washington (AP)—Gil Hodges, manager of the Washington Senators, was felled by a line drive to the side of the head while pitching batting practice before Friday night's double-header with the Chicago White Sox.

Hodges was taken to Doctor's Hospital for X rays and observation. He did not lose consciousness.

Dr. George A. Resta, team physician, said there was "nothing alarming" in Hodges' condition. He added there was a possibility that Hodges could return for the second game of the double-header.

Hodges was pitching to outfielder Don Lock, who rifled a shot back towards the mount. Hodges ducked but the ball caught him above the right ear and knocked him down.

Eagle Raceway Will Give Two Prizes To Fans

The prize list continues to grow for fans at Eagle Raceway this week. Owner Harvey Kropp will have two big prizes to display Saturday night since his card was rained out last week.

Under the new plan at Eagle the fans have an opportunity to win a host of prizes to be given away at a future card. However, registration cards are signed by the customers each week.

The prize a week ago was an elaborate barbecue valued at $200 while this week's offering is an auto-stereo tape recorder.

Eagle Raceway certainly has to rate as the hard luck supermodified track on the circuit. The oval has been rained out on six of nine dates thus far in 1965.

Weather Only Barrier To Springtime Fishing Activity

. . . BIG WALLEYE AT JOHNSON

There is little that can hold back that springtime urge to go fishing—unless it is wet weather. That seems to be the case this past week, the Game Commission reports.

Lack of fishing weather has held down activity, although in several areas the catches have been good. At Johnson Lake some long-time observers say they have never seen so many big walleye.

A capsule report by area:

PANHANDLE

Whitney Lake—crappie fishing good using minnows for bait, few catfish and walleye also biting. Smith Lake—bluegill, crappie, and perch being taken on minnows and artificial lures. Lake Minatare—walleye fishing good, some perch and northern pike being taken. Box Butte Reservoir—walleye being caught, also crappie on minnows. Bridgeport Pits—trout, bass, and catfish going for artificial lures and worms. Trout Streams—Niobrara and White rivers offering trout on minnows and worms, trout going for worms and spinners at Pine and White Clay creeks.

NORTHEAST

Loup River (Columbus area)—catfish being taken on variety of bait in the river, canal, and tailrace. Crystal Lake—carp on corn, bass going for artificial lures. Elkhorn River—catfish biting in the Stanton, Norfolk, Battle Creek, Meadow Grove, and Tilden areas. Lewis and Clark Lake—walleye and sauger hitting in the Weigand Area in late evening, fishing off bottom using minnows; few crappie being taken; below dam white bass going for artificials, catfish being taken on crawdads, and carp being caught along dike.

SOUTHEAST

Burchard Lake—crappie, bluegill, and bullheads on worms. Loup River (St. Paul area)—catfish, running 2 to 3 pounds, going for minnows. Little Blue River—yellow catfish being taken on worms in Fairbury area, in Nuckolls County area channel catfish being taken on worms. Platte River—catfish up to 6 pounds being taken on large chubs; bass, bluegill, and crappie being caught in sand pits along river on worms and artificial lures.

SOUTHWEST

Jeffrey Reservoir—trollers taking nice walleye on night crawlers or large minnows; bluegill and crappie hitting in bay areas. Lake McConaughy—walleye fishing still good all over lake and excellent at face of dam; some smallmouth bass biting, few northern pike being taken at west end and trout at east end; at Otter Creek walleye and white bass up considerably for anglers using red cherry bobbers trailing minnows and trolling white doll flies and minnows; bigger wallеye being caught casting with doll flies. Sutherland Reservoir—catfish, white bass, and bullheads being caught at inlet. Lake Maloney—walleye being taken by trolling or drifting night crawlers or large minnows; crappie being caught in bay areas on minnows; white bass and catfish being taken at inlet. Swanson Reservoir—white bass fishing good, walleye fishing fair. Enders Reservoir—white bass, walleye, and a few catfish being caught. Sand Pits (Shelton to Elm Creek)—largemouth bass biting. Johnson Lake—walleye fishing good for trollers using artificials, white bass also biting. Red Willow Reservoir—black bass fighing fair to good, some bluegill and catfish hitting. Medicine Creek Reservoir—some walleye; crappie fishing good in bay areas. Harlan County Reservoir—walleye fishing slow, white bass fishing good in middle of the lake for trollers.

SAND HILLS

Merritt Reservoir—trout being taken mostly by trollers using mepps spinners. Hackberry Lake—bass, northern pike, and bluegill being caught. Sherman Reservoir—catfish and bullheads biting. North and Middle Loup rivers—catfish being taken. Hofelt Lake—bullheads still biting.

Bueford Bailey Wins 3rd State Doubles Crown

Doniphan (AP)— Bueford Bailey of Big Springs won his third Nebraska state doubles championship Friday at the state trapshoot. He had previously won in 1958 and 1962.

Bailey, with a 96 Friday, beat Bill Johnson of Loomis, the defending champion, by one target.

Bailey will defend his singles title Saturday. If he wins again he could make it a triple by taking the state handicap title Sunday.

Ruth Justice of Wauneta took the state women's championship in the doubles with 70/100 and Ken Sedlecky of Alvo retained the professional title with 97/100.

Other winners were:

Out of state ladies doubles: Gladys Pfost, Phillipsburg, Kan., 76/100.

Out of state doubles: Wade Pfost, Phillipsburg, 94/100.

State junior doubles: Jim Columbo, Omaha, 93/100.

Class champions: A, John Voss, Omaha, 95x100; B, John Morehead, Falls City, 94x100; C, Max Weller, Gibbon, 93x100; D, Elmer Vanous, David City, 85x100.

Ticket Orders Booming For NU Football Games

The University of Nebraska's enlarged Memorial Stadium may not be big enough to seat all the fans who want to follow the Cornhuskers' football games this fall.

Ticket manager Jim Pittenger reported to the Board of Regents Friday that the Wisconsin and Kansas games have probably reached the sellout stage already.

Pittenger told the board that 50,000 of the 52,450 seats in the stadium will be reserved seats and that 40,000 will probably go to season ticket holders. Faculty and student ticket holders are counted in that group.

The regents were told that there are 7,500 new season ticket orders on hand. Deadline for previous ticketholders to re-order their seats for 1965 was Thursday.

Ticket Manager Given New Duties

James (Jim) Pittenger, presently ticket dirfector and administrative assistant at the University of Nebraska, was given the added duties of assistant director of athletics in action taken by the University Board of Regents Friday.

The Regents also accepteed the resignations of Equipment Manager Floyd Bottorff and Assistant Director of Athletics and Director of Concessions L. F. (Pop) Klein.

WASHINGTON'S HODGES FELLED BY LINE DRIVE

Washington (AP)—Gil Hodges, manager of the Washington Senators, was felled by a line drive to the side of the head while pitching batting practice before Friday night's double-header with the Chicago White Sox.

Hodges was taken to Doctor's Hospital for X rays and observation. He did not lose consciousness.

Dr. George A. Resta, team physician, said there was "nothing alarming" in Hodges' condition. He added there was a possibility that Hodges could return for the second game of the double-header.

Hodges was pitching to outfielder Don Lock, who rifled a shot back towards the mount. Hodges ducked but the ball caught him above the right ear and knocked him down.

Eagle Raceway Will Give Two Prizes To Fans

The prize list continues to grow for fans at Eagle Raceway this week. Owner Harvey Kropp will have two big prizes to display Saturday night since his card was rained out last week.

Under the new plan at Eagle the fans have an opportunity to win a host of prizes to be given away at a future card. However, registration cards are signed by the customers each week.

The prize a week ago was an elaborate barbecue valued at $200 while this week's offering is an auto-stereo tape recorder.

Eagle Raceway certainly has to rate as the hard luck supermodified track on the circuit. The oval has been rained out on six of nine dates thus far in 1965.

3 Nebraskans Named Pages For Young GOP

Beatrice (AP)—Three Nebraska teen-age Republicans have been named pages for the national young Republican convention to be held in Miami Beach, Fla., June 14-18.

Lowell Hummel of Fairbury, state young GOP chairman, said the three are: Tom Spitsnogle, Lincoln; Shryl Bresely, Ord; and Nadine Kremke, Jansen.

Hummel said about 100 teenagers from the 50 states received the appointments to serve as messengers for officers and committees of the convention. He said the program is designed as a reward for their outstanding work and interest in the party.

Cuba Ousts Industry Head Che Guevara

Havana (AP) — Highly reliable sources said Friday that Ernesto (Che) Guevara has been replaced as minister of industries in the Fidel Castro regime by Arturo Guzman, the deputy minister.

Guevara has been absent for more than a month. Government officials refused to discuss the matter.

The sources said that Guzman's appointment has been officially made, but has not been announced.

Guzman has been in charge of the ministry since December, 1964, when Guevara left on a trip to Africa and Communist China.

Reports had circulated in Havana the past four months that Guevara had been replaced. Reasons for such a move were not given.

Youth Arrested After Drive-in Disturbance

A nineteen year-old boy was arrested Thursday evening after a disturbance at Dale Brook Drive-In 32nd and South St.

A group of about 25 to 40 youths was gathered around the west side of the drive-in. The manager asked them to leave and then the police also asked the group to disperse.

One of the boys used foul language and resisted the officers, police said. He was the only one arrested.

3 Nebraskans Named Pages For Young GOP

Beatrice (AP)—Three Nebraska teen-age Republicans have been named pages for the national young Republican convention to be held in Miami Beach, Fla., June 14-18.

Lowell Hummel of Fairbury, state young GOP chairman, said the three are: Tom Spitsnogle, Lincoln; Shryl Bresely, Ord; and Nadine Kremke, Jansen.

Hummel said about 100 teenagers from the 50 states received the appointments to serve as messengers for officers and committees of the convention. He said the program is designed as a reward for their outstanding work and interest in the party.

Cuba Ousts Industry Head Che Guevara

Havana (AP) — Highly reliable sources said Friday that Ernesto (Che) Guevara has been replaced as minister of industries in the Fidel Castro regime by Arturo Guzman, the deputy minister.

Guevara has been absent for more than a month. Government officials refused to discuss the matter.

The sources said that Guzman's appointment has been officially made, but has not been announced.

Guzman has been in charge of the ministry since December, 1964, when Guevara left on a trip to Africa and Communist China.

Reports had circulated in Havana the past four months that Guevara had been replaced. Reasons for such a move were not given.

Youth Arrested After Drive-in Disturbance

A nineteen year-old boy was arrested Thursday evening after a disturbance at Dale Brook Drive-In 32nd and South St.

A group of about 25 to 40 youths was gathered around the west side of the drive-in. The manager asked them to leave and then the police also asked the group to disperse.

One of the boys used foul language and resisted the officers, police said. He was the only one arrested.

Stock Market Rallies After 4-Day Drop

New York (AP) — After four days of fast retreat, the stock market made a pretty fair rally Friday—but the pace of trading was more than two million shares under volume for the previous session.

Turnover was 5.35 million shares compared with 7.45 million Thursday.

This run-of-mill trading actually below average for the year—was definitely not an omen of an enthusiastic turnabout from weeks of decline. Analysts were more inclined to attribute the recovery to technical factors.

One of these was short covering, that is the purchase of stock to repay borrowed shares "sold short" in hopes they could be replaced with stock bought much cheaper.

Prices were steady from the start and were on the upbeat within a half hour. By late morning they had reached their peak of the day. Then came some mild profit taking by in-and-out traders which trimmed gains. In the final half hour however, several blue chips were bought eagerly enough to boost the market level almost to its best of the session.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 5.21 to 88.70, recouping about 20 per cent of this week's worst loss.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 2.1 to 321.3 with industrial up 4.2, rails up .8 and utilities up .2.

Of 1,355 issues traded, 692 rose and 428 fell. New highs for the year totaled three and new lows 105.

Eleven of the 15 most active stocks advanced and four declined.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.27 million shares compared with 1.87 million Thursday.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. goverment bods were mostly unchanged.

Grains Decline In Light Trade

Chicago (AP) — Commercial buying was barely noticeable in the grain futures market Friday and speculators did what they usually do in that circumstance - liquidated or sold short.

The pressure was not great, however, in the generally light trade.

Soybeans, always the widest swingers and most actively traded, were down almost 4 cents a bushel at the extreme but rallied somewhat shortly before the close and finished with net losses of about 2 cents or less on all deliveries.

Soybeans finished 1⅜-2⅛ cents a bushel lower, July $2.88¾-89; wheat unchanged to ⅝ lower, July new grade $1.39½-⅝; corn ¼-½ lower, July $1.31⅝-½; oats ¼-½ lower, July 67¾ cents; rye ⅜-⅞ lower, July $1.14¾.

Stock Market Rallies After 4-Day Drop

New York (AP) — After four days of fast retreat, the stock market made a pretty fair rally Friday—but the pace of trading was more than two million shares under volume for the previous session.

Turnover was 5.35 million shares compared with 7.45 million Thursday.

This run-of-mill trading- actually below average for the year—was definitely not an omen of an enthusiastic turnabout from weeks of decline. Analysts were more inclined to attribute the recovery to technical factors.

One of these was short covering, that is the purchase of stock to repay borrowed shares "sold short" in hopes they could be replaced with stock bought much cheaper.

Prices were steady from the start and were on the upbeat within a half hour. By late morning they had reached their peak of the day. Then came some mild profit taking by in-and-out traders which trimmed gains. In the final half hour however, several blue chips were bought eagerly enough to boost the market level almost to its best of the session.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 5.21 to 88.70, recouping about 20 per cent of this week's worst loss.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 2.1 to 321.3 with industrial up 4.2, rails up .8 and utilities up .2.

Of 1,355 issues traded, 692 rose and 428 fell. New highs for the year totaled three and new lows 105.

Eleven of the 15 most active stocks advanced and four declined.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 1.27 million shares compared with 1.87 million Thursday.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. goverment bods were mostly unchanged.

Grains Decline In Light Trade

Chicago (AP) — Commercial buying was barely noticeable in the grain futures market Friday and speculators did what they usually do in that circumstance - liquidated or sold short.

The pressure was not great, however, in the generally light trade.

Soybeans, always the widest swingers and most actively traded, were down almost 4 cents a bushel at the extreme but rallied somewhat shortly before the close and finished with net lossees of about 2 cents or less on all deliveries.

Soybeans finished 1⅜-2⅛ cents a bushel lower, July $2.88¾-89; wheat unchanged to ⅝ lower, July new grade $1.39½-⅝; corn ¼-½ lower, July $1.31⅝-½; oats ¼-½ lower, July 67¾ cents; rye ⅝-⅞ lower, July $1.14¾.

Senate Slices LBJ Aid Bill; 'Meat Ax' Whack Is Beaten

Washington (AP) — Administration forces were jolted by a $200-million cut in President Johnson's foreign aid bill Friday after beating back what one Senate leader called a "meat ax" whack at the $3.44 billion measure.

The drive for a top-to-bottom cut in the bill was led by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., who called the foreign aid program "a stinking mess."

Whatever slim hopes democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana had of passing the measure Friday night went aglimmering when Morse announced he plans to call up a series of amendments Monday proposing country-by-country cuts.

'Laced With Waste'

Morse said the program is laced with "waste and mismanagement."

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, predicted the Senate will reach a final vote on the authorization measure Tuesday. It must be followed later by an appropriation bill providing whatever funds are authorized.

Morse tried first to cut the whole program from $3,443,170,000 to an even $3 billion for each of the next two years, starting July 1.

Administration backers led by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., stemmed this attack by a 54-26 roll call vote.

They were unable to halt Morse's next drive, however, and his amendment to trim the measure by $200 million a year, from $3,443,170,000 to 3,243,170,000, carried 40 to 35. It was the administration's first major setback.

Morse's amendment was aimed at the program as a whole, leaving it up to President Johnson's foreign aid directors to decide where to distribute the $200 million reduction if it prevails.

Large Gold Shipment Seized By Bandit Gang

Kirkland Lake, Ont., Canada (UPI)—A bandit gang Friday seized a $164,000 gold shipment at a railroad station near here and apparently made a getaway by auto and plane.

The bandits seized five gold bars at the Virginiatown station of the Ontario Northland Railroad, some seven miles southeast of this northern Ontario gold-mining community and 400 miles north of Toronto.

The gold was being shipped from the Kerr Addison gold mines.

At least three and possibly four men were believed to have staged the robbery, one of the largest of its kind in Canada.

Fled By Car

The gang struck at 3 p.m. (CST) They tied up the station agent, seized the gold and fled by car.

The car later was found abandoned at a lake some eight miles from the Virginiatown station, where police believe the bandits transferred to a seaplane parked on the lake.

Police said the robbery apparently was "the work of professionals."

The gold belonged to Kerr Addison Ltd. of Larder Lake, Ont., some 15 miles southeast of Kirkland Lake.

First Robbery

S. C. Yule, manager of the mine, said it was the first robbery since the gold shipments had been started at the Virginiatown railroad depot in 1938.

Station agent Tom Tonkin, 45, of Larder Lake, was alone in the railway depot when the bandits drove up.

He was bound by the men who were described as armed and masked. The operation lasted only a matter of minutes.

Tonkin was found shortly afterward by a young Indian from a nearby Indian reservation. He was unhurt.

Deliveries are made from the mine to the railway depot each Friday. Yule said the bandits cleaned out the entire week's shipment.

In 1949 two bank bandits tried to escape in a floatplane on the same lake.

Panel OKs Meet On Disarmament Including Peking

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Over U.S. objections, the U.N. Disarmament Commission endorsed Friday an Asian-African proposal for a world arms conference that would include Red China.

The vote in the 114-nation commission was 89-0, with 16 abstentions. The United States and France were among the abstainers.

The approved resolution welcomed the idea of a world disarmament meeting put forward last October at a Cairo meeting of nonaligned countries and recommended that the U.N. Assembly give urgent consideration to the proposal at its fall session.

The United States expressed serious doubts as to the value of a world conference and said it might turn into a propaganda forum that would do more harm than good.

Investigators To Ask Ailes About Stocks

Washington (UPI) — Army Secretary Stephen Ailes has been summoned by congressional investigators to testify about his stockholdings in a finance firm criticized for its dealings with military personnel, it was revealed Friday.

The House domestic finance subcommittee said Ailes would testify at a public hearing June 18. He holds stock in the Federal Services Finance Corp., which specializes in auto and personal loans for servicemen at home and abroad.

The company is being investigated by the subcommittee.

The Defense Department—which also is investigating federal services — reported that Ailes acquired 200 shares of the stock in 1956 on behalf of his four children.

The pentagon statement said that at no time did Ailes participate in the operation of the Washington, D.C., -based finance company.

Prehistoric Mastodon Located Near Wolbach

. . . Uncovered After Heavy Rains

Wolbach (AP)—Recent heavy rains in the Wolbach area haev washed away part of a bank along Nebraska Highway 22 just west of town uncovering the remains of a prehistoric mastodon.

The huge elephant-like animal skeleton estimated between 30,000 and 50,000 years old, was first sighted several days ago by motorists passing the spot.

Officials of the Archeological Department of the University of Nebraska announced the identification after being called to the spot.

The tusks and skull are clearly visible, C. E. Thompson, publisher of the Wolbach Messenger, said.

During the early part of the week archeologists from the University of Nebraska were busy digging away the clay and putting a plaster cast on the sections dug out. They estimate it will take several more days before the complete skull and tusks can be uncovered and prepared for removal.

The bank, approximately 40 feet high, was cutaway a year ago when the grade on Nebraska 22 was lowered between the Wolbach corner and U.S. 281 to the west. The outline of the mastodon is about 40 feet down from the top of the bank, almost level with the highway.

University workers say several men will be needed when the remains are removed, for with the dirt and all it is expected to weigh about a half ton.

Autopsy Set After Death Of Lincolnite

An autopsy was ordered in connection with the death Friday of a Lincoln man, Carl A. Neeman, 64, of 6200 Judson.

Lincoln police said a witness told them Mr. Neeman had parked the pickup truck he had been driving in front of his home on 62nd, between Judson and Gladstone.

The witness said Mr. Neeman got out and walked to the rear of the pickup, and when the truck started to roll, turned around. The witness said he appeared to crouch, and the left door of the pickup, which had been left open, struck him in the face, toppling him to the ground. The truck rolled on and stopped against his legs, but did not roll over them.

The Lincoln Fire Department used a resuscitator unit for 10 minutes in an attempt to revive him, but he was pronounced dead on arrival at Bryan Memorial Hospital.

An X ray indicated that there was no skull fracture resulting from the contact with the pickup door. Lancaster County Atty. Paul Douglas ordered the autopsy to determine the cause of death.

The family doctor said Mr. Neeman had been a patient of his for one and one-half years, and that he suffered from heart disease. The doctor said Mr. Neeman suffered a heart attack about month before his death.

RIVET GUN 'BACKFIRE' INJURES MAN

A rivet gun became a type of boomerang, in the hands of Earl Weber, 45, of 5801 Wilshire, as he worked at the new First Baptist Church at 14th and K Friday.

Lincoln police said Weber was using the rivet gun, a type of impact tool which drives steel rivets by using .22 caliber blanks, to fasten steel stairs to concrete wall and floor areas.

A rivet Weber fired from the gun went through a steel plate, ricocheted off the concrete and hit him in the stomach just below the ribs.

4-Year Term For Lincoln School Board Gets 1st OK

The Legislature Friday handed 19-2 first round floor approval to a bill which would reduce the terms of Lincoln School Board members from six to four years.

Lincoln's four senators split on the proposal.

The measure, LB464, won support from Sens. Marvin E. Stromer and John Knight. Lancaster County's fifth senator, Jerome Warner of Waverly, co-signed the bill.

Opposing the measure were Sens. Fern Hubbard Orme and Hal Bauer. Senator Orme offered a kill motion, but it fell on a 4-18 count.

Stromer said the bill would make members of the school board "more responsive to the electorate" by bringing them "in contact more directly and vitally" with Lincoln voters.

Under the change, Stromer noted, one-half of the six-member board could be changed at any given election, instead of one-third of the membership.

Bauer said present members of the school board had contacted him and requested continuation of the six-year term which, they said, assists in long-range planning.

In its original form, LB-464 provided for a 10-member board. The bill was amended in committee, and amendments were accepted on the floor.

Nichol Sworn In

Washington (AP) — Fred J. Nichol of Mitchell, S.D., was sworn in as a federal judge Friday by Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black. President Johnson's appointment of Nichol to the U.S. district judgeship was confirmed recently by the Senate.

Senate Slices LBJ Aid Bill; 'Meat Ax' Whack Is Beaten

Washington (AP) — Administration forces were jolted by a $200-million cut in President Johnson's foreign aid bill Friday after beating back what one Senate leader called a "meat ax" whack at the $3.44 billion measure.

The drive for a top-to-bottom cut in the bill was led by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., who called the foreign aid program "a stinking mess."

Whatever slim hopes democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana had of passing the measure Friday night went aglimmering when Morse announced he plans to call up a series of amendments Monday proposing country-by-country cuts.

'Laced With Waste'

Morse said the program is laced with "waste and mismanagement."

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, predicted the Senate will reach a final vote on the authorization measure Tuesday. It must be followed later by an appropriation bill providing whatever funds are authorized.

Morse tried first to cut the whole program from $3,443,170,000 to an even $3 billion for each of the next two years, starting July 1.

Administration backers led by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., stemmed this attack by a 54-26 roll call vote.

They were unable to halt Morse's next drive, however, and his amendment to trim the measure by $200 million a year, from $3,443,170,000 to 3,243,170,000, carried 40 to 35. It was the administration's first major setback.

Morse's amendment was aimed at the program as a whole, leaving it up to President Johnson's foreign aid directors to decide where to distribute the $200 million reduction if it prevails.

Large Gold Shipment Seized By Bandit Gang

Kirkland Lake, Ont., Canada (UPI)—A bandit gang Friday seized a $164,000 gold shipment at a railroad station near here and apparently made a getaway by auto and plane.

The bandits seized five gold bars at the Virginiatown station of the Ontario Northland Railroad, some seven miles southeast of this northern Ontario gold-mining community and 400 miles north of Tornto.

The gold was being shipped from the Kerr Addison gold mines.

At least three and possibly four men were believed to have staged the robbery, one of the largest of its kind in Canada.

Fled By Car

The gang struck at 3 p.m. (CST) They tied up the station agent, seized the gold and fled by car.

The car later was found abandoned at a lake some eight miles from the Virginiatown station, where police believe the bandits transferred to a seaplane parked on the lake.

Police said the robbery apparently was "the work of professionals."

The gold belonged to Kerr Addison Ltd. of Larder Lake, Ont., some 15 miles southeast of Kirkland Lake.

First Robbery

S. C. Yule, manager of the mine, said it was the first robbery since the gold shipments had been started at the Virginiatown railroad depot in 1938.

Station agent Tom Tonkin, 45, of Larder Lake, was alone in the railway depot when the bandits drove up.

He was bound by the men who were described as armed and masked. The operation lasted only a matter of minutes.

Tonkin was found shortly afterward by a young Indian from a nearby Indian reservation. He was unhurt.

Deliveries are made from the mine to the railway depot each Friday. Yule said the bandits cleaned out the entire week's shipment.

In 1949 two bank bandits tried to escape in a floatplane on the same lake.

Panel OKs Meet On Disarmament Including Peking

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Over U.S. objections, the U.N. Disarmament Commission endorsed Friday an Asian-African proposal for a world arms conference that would include Red China.

The vote in the 114-nation commission was 89-0, with 16 abstentions. The United States and France were among the abstainers.

The approved resolution welcomed the idea of a world disarmament meeting put forward last October at a Cairo meeting of nonaligned countries and recommended that the U.N. Assembly give urgent consideration to the proposal at its fall session.

The United States expressed serious doubts as to the value of a world conference and said it might turn into a propaganda forum that would do more harm than good.

Investigators To Ask Ailes About Stocks

Washington (UPI) — Army Secretary Stephen Ailes has been summoned by congressional investigators to testify about his stockholdings in a finance firm criticized for its dealings with military personnel, it was revealed Friday.

The House domestic finance subcommittee said Ailes would testify at a public hearing June 18. He holds stock in the Federal Services Finance Corp., which specializes in auto and personal loans for servicemen at home and abroad.

The company is being investigated by the subcommittee.

The Defense Department—which also is investigating federal services — reported that Ailes acquired 200 shares of the stock in 1956 on behalf of his four children.

The pentagon statement said that at no time did Ailes participate in the operation of the Washington, D.C., -based finance company.

Cairo (AP)—Two West German men and a woman were found dead of exposure in the waterless wastes of Siwa Desert, west of Cairo, and two other Germans are missing, police reports here said.

Men in the party were aircraft technicians at an Egyptian factory. Police said they were traveling in a car, attempting to make a crossing on the desert track from El Alamein to Siwa Oasis.

Prehistoric Mastodon Located Near Wolbach

. . . Uncovered After Heavy Rains

Wolbach (AP)—Recent heavy rains in the Wolbach area haev washed away part of a bank along Nebraska Highway 22 just west of town uncovering the remains of a prehistoric mastodon.

The huge elephant-like animal skeleton estimated between 30,000 and 50,000 years old, was first sighted several days ago by motorists passing the spot.

Officials of the Archeological Department of the University of Nebraska announced the identification after being called to the spot.

The tusks and skull are clearly visible, C. E. Thompson, publisher of the Wolbach Messenger, said.

During the early part of the week archeologists from the University of Nebraska were busy digging away the clay and putting a plaster cast on the sections dug out. They estimate it will take several more days before the complete skull and tusks can be uncovered and prepared for removal.

The bank, approximately 40 feet high, was cutaway a year ago when the grade on Nebraska 22 was lowered between the Wolbach corner and U.S. 281 to the west. The outline of the mastodon is about 40 feet down from the top of the bank, almost level with the highway.

University workers say several men will be needed when the remains are removed, for with the dirt and all it is expected to weigh about a half ton.

Autopsy Set After Death Of Lincolnite

An autopsy was ordered in connection with the death Friday of a Lincoln man, Carl A. Neeman, 64, of 6200 Judson.

Lincoln police said a witness told them Mr. Neeman had parked the pickup truck he had been driving in front of his home on 62nd, between Judson and Gladstone.

The witness said Mr. Neeman got out and walked to the rear of the pickup, and when the truck started to roll, turned around. The witness said he appeared to crouch, and the left door of the pickup, which had been left open, struck him in the face, toppling him to the ground. The truck rolled on and stopped against his legs, but did not roll over them.

The Lincoln Fire Department used a resuscitator unit for 10 minutes in an attempt to revive him, but he was pronounced dead on arrival at Bryan Memorial Hospital.

An X ray indicated that there was no skull fracture resulting from the contact with the pickup door. Lancaster County Atty. Paul Douglas ordered the autopsy to determine the cause of death.

The family doctor said Mr. Neeman had been a patient of his for one and one-half years, and that he suffered from heart disease. The doctor said Mr. Neeman suffered a heart attack about month before his death.

RIVET GUN 'BACKFIRE' INJURES MAN

A rivet gun became a type of boomerang, in the hands of Earl Weber, 45, of 5801 Wilshire, as he worked at the new First Baptist Church at 14th and K Friday.

Lincoln police said Weber was using the rivet gun, a type of impact tool which drives steel rivets by using .22 caliber blanks, to fasten steel stairs to concrete wall and floor areas.

A rivet Weber fired from the gun went through a steel plate, ricocheted off the concrete and hit him in the stomach just below the ribs.

4-Year Term For Lincoln School Board Gets 1st OK

The Legislature Friday handed 19-2 first round floor approval to a bill which would reduce the terms of Lincoln School Board members from six to four years.

Lincoln's four senators split on the proposal.

The measure, LB464, won support from Sens. Marvin E. Stromer and John Knight. Lancaster County's fifth senator, Jerome Warner of Waverly, co-signed the bill.

Opposing the measure were Sens. Fern Hubbard Orme and Hal Bauer. Senator Orme offered a kill motion, but it fell on a 4-18 count.

Stromer said the bill would make members of the school board "more responsive to the electorate" by bringing them "in contact more directly and vitally" with Lincoln voters.

Under the change, Stromer noted, one-half of the six-member board could be changed at any given election, instead of one-third of the membership.

Bauer said present members of the school board had contacted him and requested continuation of the six-year term which, they said, assists in long-range planning.

In its original form, LB-464 provided for a 10-memper board. The bill was amended in committee, and amendments were accepted on the floor.

Callan Pressing For VA Hospital Project

Rep. Clair Callan said Friday he will confer next week with Veterans Administrator William Driver on operationla and modernization plans for the Lincoln VA Hospital.

Callan said he will seek "a definite commitment on the mission of the hospital" and "push for completion of the remodeling program cancelled in 1961."

His statements followed a meeting with Dr. J. Melvin Boykin, Lincoln VA Hospital administrator, before returning to Washington.

Minimum Need

"The $2.5 million remodeling phase, cancelled in 1961, is the minimum work needed," Callan said. "I think a re-evaluation of the hospital's remodeling needs is advisable since that study is now four years old."

Callan said he would push for funds, either in the VA current budget or by appropriation, if necessary, to completely modernize the Lincoln hospital to a full-service and teaching hospital.

In a letter to Driver, Callan has noted that the Lincoln hospital "has most all the attributes fine medical facilities should have and needs only certain modernizations to have them all."

Operational Money

Callan said the $23 million appropriated by Congress to keep the VA hospitals open is operational money, and he will investigate further to see what remodeling funds are available.

Dr. Boykin said the 250-bed hospital now has 83 patients and 15 on the waiting list, and noted staff departures in earlier anticipation of the hospital's closing are limiting the number of patients the facility can accommodate.

He said the hospital can rebuild an appropriate staff without difficulty when a modernization program is under way and the hospital's future mission is firmed up.

Major needs are additional ward service space, more bed space, put not beds, and a research laboratory. Described as in excellent shape are the surgical suites, pharmacy and X-ray department.

Battle Promised

Callan said VA officials and the "blue ribbon" committee members who visited the hospital regarding efforts to keep the hospital open "could certainly see the need for additional remodeling."

Callan, who successfully led efforts to keep the Lincoln hospital open, said he will "battle hard" for a modernization program.

FCC Switches Cause ETV Network Changes

Nebraska has petitioned the federal government to revise its plans for state educational television stations at Omaha and Albion to avoid delays in getting programs on the screen.

The announcement was made Friday by state ETV network General Manager Jack McBride.

McBride said the new plans were necessary because of a revised national table of television channel allocations on ultra high frequency (UHF) stations. He said Nebraska learned about the new allocations only Thursday.

2 Channels Taken

"In effect," he said, "the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has taken our Channel 16 in Omaha and 25 in Albion away from us."

He said the state ETV commission has already been reassigned channel 21 for Albion. It has asked that Omaha be given Channel 26.

The commission, McBride added, is hopeful that the FCC will move quickly on the request so that there will be no delay in activating the Omaha station this fall.

"We are still planning on activating the Omaha station this October. If the FCC will approve our revised plans, this should not be a problem," he said.

Modifications Minor

The new channel designation will cause only minor modifications in equipment, he said. "We can still use all the equipment we had in our plans," he said.

McBride said the FCC announcement that it had sacked Channel 16 and 21 came "as a complete surprise. We had no forewarning."

He said that earlier this week the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare granted Nebraska $100,000 to build a tower and antenna at Omaha.

The Omaha and Albion stations are part of the statewide, seven-station ETV network authorized by the 1963 Legislature.

Terry Renews Vow To Fight Appropriation For Centennial

Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter renewed his pledge Friday to fight vigorously on the legislative floor against any attempt to appropriate state funds to help finance Nebraska's 1967 centennial celebration.

"My position has not changed," he said. "I am against giving even a quarter of state money for the celebration."

Carpenter spoke out after Gov. Frank Morrison criticized the Scottsbluff lawmaker for his stand against a state-financed centennial observance.

Morrison, speaking at the Nebraska Stock Growers Association Convention at Ogallala, did not mention Carpenter by name but referred to "a senator from western Nebraska who doesn't believe there's anything to celebrate in 1967."

Sen. Carpenter, who identified himself as the legislator to which the governor was referring, said the celebration should be financed by private interests.

"Gov. Morrison, who advocates the spending of approximately $1 million for the nonsense of a celebration, either has not seen the deplorable and over-burdened position of Nebraska taxpayers or is buying votes at the expense of the taxpayers," Carpenter said. "It's a deplorable position for one who contends he does not play politics with the people's welfare."

The Legislature's Budget Committee now has the budget request of the State Centennial Commission under consideration. The commission asked for a 1967-67 budget of $880,575, and Morrison recommended an appropriation of $594,675.

Lincoln, Omaha Unite In Bid For AEC Facility In State

Lincoln and Omaha joined forces Friday in an attempt to gain both Nebraska and out-of-state support for Nebraska's bid for the Atomic Energy Commission's proposed $250 million accelerator.

Nebraska will place its site proposal before the AEC Monday offering the approximately 16,000 acres that formerly housed the Mead Ordinance Plant. One part of the site is still owned by the government, but about half is owned by the University of Nebraska.

The proposed installation will require 3,000 acres. Advanced educational requirements, water and electric power as well as special highways and airports can be supplied before construction is completed.

Special Meeting

Nebraska is one of a large number of seekers nationally for the facility. Friday the special meeting here of some 40 representatives of the Lincoln and Omaha Chambers of Commerce brought pledges of all-out bipartisan support of the proposal from Nebraska's congressional delegation. First District Congressman Clair Callan attended the session. Sens. Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska and Rep. Cunningham were represented by their Nebraska spokesman.

Governor Frank Morrison pledged administrative support of the joint effort, which he termed in itself a victory.

Louis Somberg, president of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, said Omaha appreciated Lincoln's invitation to join in the application. He pledged unqualified support.

10-Man Cimmittee

Lincoln Chamber President Tom Pansing will appoint a 10-man Nebraska committee to plan the state's campaign and seek in-state and out-of-state support. He noted that the application was based upon AEC criteria and provided for further filings of supplemental material after the filing date.

Merk Hobson, dean of the NU College of Engineering, said that the University is not strongly enough staffed in high energy physics to be rated among the top 20 schools in the country. But he foresaw high places for both Creighton University and NU should Mead get the research facility.

Besides the accelerator, AEC plans call for at least 11 buildings to house laboratories and resident and visiting scientists. The accelerator itself would require land a mile square. It would require a power supply of 200 megavolts.

Governor OKs Two Youth Corps Projects In State

Gov. Frank Morrison Friday approved two more Neighborhood Youth Corps projects which will receive federal grants totaling $62,404 under the war on poverty program.

The Winnebago Civic Development Committee will receive $40,750 to employ 66 youths between the ages of 16 and 21 to work on community projects.

The State Game Commission will receive $21,654 to employ 30 youths in the same age bracket to develop and restore old Fort Hartsuff in Valley County.

7 Reapportion Plans In Hands Of Legislators

Seven plans to reapportion the Nebraska Legislature have been submitted to the Committee on Committees for review, Chairman Elvin Adamson reported Friday.

Friday was the deadline for submitting redistricting proposals.

Adamson, of Valentine, said his group will hold a meeting at 1 p.m. Monday to go over the various plans. He said a recommendation will hopefully be made.

"There is a desire to get moving on this thing," he said. "I think the committee will work out something palatable and send it to the floor."

Of the seven plans, only two would not cross county lines in fashioning new districts.

Vandals' Damage Amounts To $475

Vandals caused about $475 damage, police report.

At the DuTeau Chevrolet used car lot, 17th and P, officers were told someone using a blunt instrument cracked the windshields of six cars, causing nearly $400 damage.

Vandals Friday morning cut a 50 foot piece of 2-inch hose used by the Layne Western Co., 4430 Commercial Ave.

The company told police that it was using the hose at 40th and Garland while digging a sewer. The damage was estimated at about $75.

Announcement On Merger Of Statex, Felco Likely

An announcement is expected early next week from the Nebraska Farmers Union State Exchange (Statex) regarding a proposal for a merger of Statex with Farmers Elevator Co. (Felco) of Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Sources said that approval has been granted by the Statex board of directors for the consolidation of activities between the two regional cooperatives and that further procedures will depend on action to be taken shortly by the Felco management.

What appeared to be an introduction to the merger was an announcement by Wilbur M. Jenny, Statex manager, in the June Statex Mirror that Statex was entering the feed business with the introduction of the Felco feed program in Nebraska.

"Felco will provide the specialty sales assistance and advertising, Statex will bill the accounts and assist in bringing the story to cooperatives where an improved feed program is needed," said Jenny.

Jenny explained that Felco now furnishes 17% of the total feed sold in Iowa, and that by joining hands with Statex the two companies could build strong, service-oriented supply programs.

In a meeting called by Consumers Cooperative Association of Kansas City, Mo., in Lincoln Thursday a unanimous vote indicated approval of the merger by an estimated 500 local cooperative directors and officials. They asked that if Statex and Felco merged that they meet with CCA to discuss a merger of the three under a new combined cooperative in the midwest.

There was no promise from Statex officials that the resolution would be honored.

Meeting Sunday To Plan Election Bid By Kuhlman

A meeting will be held here Sunday to lay the groundwork for the 1966 gubernatorial bid of H. E. Kuhlmann of Grand Island, chairman of the Nebraska Liberty Amendment Committee, it was announced Friday.

Means of furthering the cause of the Liberty Amendment also will be discussed.

The Legislature in February rejected a Liberty Amendment resolution, memorializing Congress to press for a constitutional amendment to abolish a host of federal activities, including the personal income tax. However, the state Liberty Amendment committee, led by Kuhlmann, has pledged to continue its struggle and Kuhlmann recently announced his candidacy for governor.

Sunday's meeting will begin with a luncheon at the Lincoln Hotel, followed by a business session.

Sen. Pedersen Asks ADC Study

Omaha Sen. Henry F. Pedersen Jr. Friday proposed an interim study of programs of aid to dependent children.

The resolutiin, No. 59, was referred to the executive board of the Legislative Council for recommendation.

The Legislature earlier killed a bill, LB7545, which would have increased payments under the program.

Pedersen's resolution recalled that during the debate, there was discussion of such factors as inequities of recipients, sufficiency of monthly payments and problems of parental rehabilitation.

Pedersen proposed that the study cover such aspects as sound legislative policies and management practices, and an equitable basis for determining eligible recipients.

Callan Pressing For VA Hospital Project

Rep. Clair Callan said Friday he will confer next week with Veterans Administrator William Driver on operationla and modernization plans for the Lincoln VA Hospital.

Callan said he will seek "a definite commitment on the mission of the hospital" and "push for completion of the remodeling program cancelled in 1961."

His statements followed a meeting with Dr. J. Melvin Boykin, Lincoln VA Hospital administrator, before returning to Washington.

Minimum Need

"The $2.5 mlilion remodeling phase, cancelled in 1961, is the minimum work needed," Callan said. "I think a re-evaluation of the hospital's remodeling needs is advisable since that study is now four years old."

Callan said he would push for funds, either in the VA current budget or by appropriation, if necessary, to completely modernize the Lincoln hospital to a full-service and teaching hospital.

In a letter to Driver, Callan has noted that the Lincoln hospital "has most all the attributes fine medical facilities should have and needs only certain modernizations to have them all."

Operational Money

Callan said the $23 million appropriated by Congress to keep the VA hospitals open is operational money, and he will investigate further to see what remodeling funds are available.

Dr. Boykin said the 250-bed hospital now has 83 patients and 15 on the waiting list, and noted staff departures in earlier anticipation of the hospital's closing are limiting the number of patients the facility can accommodate.

He said the hospital can rebuild an appropriate staff without difficulty when a modernization program is under way and the hospital's future mission is firmed up.

Major needs are additional ward service space, more bed space, put not beds, and a research laboratory. Described as in excellent shape are the surgical suites, pharmacy and X-ray department.

Battle Promised

Callan said VA officials and the "blue ribbon" committee members who visited the hospital regarding efforts to keep the hospital open "could certainly see the need for additional remodeling."

Callan, who successfully led efforts to keep the Lincoln hospital open, said he will "battle hard" for a modernization program.

FCC Switches Cause ETV Network Changes

Nebraska has petitioned the federal government to revise its plans for state educational television stations at Omaha and Albion to avoid delays in getting programs on the screen.

The announcement was made Friday by state ETV network General Manager Jack McBride.

McBride said the new plans were necessary because of a revised national table of television channel allocations on ultra high frequency (UHF) stations. He said Nebraska learned about the new allocations only Thursday.

2 Channels Taken

"In effect," he said, "the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has taken our Channel 16 in Omaha and 25 in Albion away from us."

He said the state ETV commission has already been reassigned channel 21 for Albion. It has asked that Omaha be given Channel 26.

The commission, McBride added, is hopeful that the FCC will move quickly on the request so that there will be no delay in activating the Omaha station this fall.

"We are still planning on activating the Omaha station this October. If the FCC will approve our revised plans, this should not be a problem," he said.

Modifications Minor

The new channel designation will cause only minor modifications in equipment, he said. "We can still use all the equipment we had in our plans," he said.

McBride said the FCC announcement that it had sacked Channel 16 and 21 came "as a complete surprise. We had no forewarning."

He said that earlier this week the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare granted Nebraska $100,000 to build a tower and antenna at Omaha.

The Omaha and Albion stations are part of the statewide, seven-station ETV network authorized by the 1963 Legislature.

Terry Renews Vow To Fight Appropriation For Centennial

Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter renewed his pledge Friday to fight vigorously on the legislative floor against any attempt to appropriate state funds to help finance Nebraska's 1967 centennial celebration.

"My position has not changed," he said. "I am against giving even a quarter of state money for the celebration."

Carpenter spoke out after Gov. Frank Morrison criticized the Scottsbluff lawmaker for his stand against a state-financed centennial observance.

Morrison, speaking at the Nebraska Stock Growers Association Convention at Ogallala, did not mention Carpenter by name but referred to "a senator from western Nebraska who doesn't believe there's anything to celebrate in 1967."

Sen. Carpenter, who identified himself as the legislator to which the governor was referring, said the celebration should be financed by private interests.

"Gov. Morrison, who advocates the spending of approximately $1 million for the nonsense of a celebration, either has not seen the deplorable and over-burdened position of Nebraska taxpayers or is buying votes at the expense of the taxpayers," Carpenter said. "It's a deplorable position for one who contends he does not play politics with the people's welfare."

The Legislature's Budget Committee now has the budget request of the State Centennial Commission under consideration. The commission asked for a 1967-67 budget of $880,575, and Morrison recommended an appropriation of $594,675.

7 Reapportion Plans In Hands Of Legislators

Seven plans to reapportion the Nebraska Legislature have been submitted to the Committee on Committees for review, Chairman Elvin Adamson reported Friday.

Friday was the deadline for submitting redistricting proposals.

Adamson, of Valentine, said his group will hold a meeting at 1 p.m. Monday to go over the various plans. He said a recommendation will hopefully be made.

"There is a desire to get moving on this thing," he said. "I think the committee will work out something palatable and send it to the floor."

Of the seven plans, only two would not cross county lines in fashioning new districts.

Lincoln, Omaha Unite In Bid For AEC Facility In State

Lincoln and Omaha joined forces Friday in an attempt to gain both Nebraska and out-of-state support for Nebraska's bid for the Atomic Energy Commission's proposed $250 million accelerator.

Nebraska will place its site proposal before the AEC Monday offering the approximately 16,000 acres that formerly housed the Mead Ordinance Plant. One part of the site is still owned by the government, but about half is owned by the University of Nebraska.

The proposed installation will require 3,000 acres. Advanced educational requirements, water and electric power as well as special highways and airports can be supplied before construction is completed.

Special Meeting

Nebraska is one of a large number of seekers nationally for the facility. Friday the special meeting here of some 40 representatives of the Lincoln and Omaha Chambers of Commerce brought pledges of all-out bipartisan support of the proposal from Nebraska's congressional delegation. First District Congressman Clair Callan attended the session. Sens. Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska and Rep. Cunningham were represented by their Nebraska spokesman.

Governor Frank Morrison pledged administrative support of the joint effort, which he termed in itself a victory.

Louis Somberg, president of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, said Omaha appreciated Lincoln's invitation to join in the application. He pledged unqualified support.

10-Man Cimmittee

Lincoln Chamber President Tom Pansing will appoint a 10-man Nebraska committee to plan the state's campaign and seek in-state and out-of-state support. He noted that the application was based upon AEC criteria and provided for further filings of supplemental material after the filing date.

Merk Hobson, dean of the NU College of Engineering, said that the University is not strongly enough staffed in high energy physics to be rated among the top 20 schools in the country. But he foresaw high places for both Creighton University and NU should Mead get the research facility.

Besides the accelerator, AEC plans call for at least 11 buildings to house laboratories and resident and visiting scientists. The accelerator itself would require land a mile square. It would require a power supply of 200 megavolts.

Governor OKs Two Youth Corps Projects In State

Gov. Frank Morrison Friday approved two more Neighborhood Youth Corps projects which will receive federal grants totaling $62,404 under the war on poverty program.

The Winnebago Civic Development Committee will receive $40,750 to employ 66 youths between the ages of 16 and 21 to work on community projects.

The State Game Commission will receive $21,654 to employ 30 youths in the same age bracket to develop and restore old Fort Hartsuff in Valley County.

Vandals' Damage Amounts To $475

Vandals caused about $475 damage, police report.

At the DuTeau Chevrolet used car lot, 17th and P, officers were told someone using a blunt instrument cracked the windshields of six cars, causing nearly $400 damage.

Vandals Friday morning cut a 50 foot piece of 2-inch hose used by the Layne Western Co., 4430 Commercial Ave.

The company told police that it was using the hose at 40th and Garland while digging a sewer. The damage was estimated at about $75.

Announcement On Merger Of Statex, Felco Likely

An announcement is expected early next week from the Nebraska Farmers Union State Exchange (Statex) regarding a proposal for a merger of Statex with Farmers Elevator Co. (Felco) of Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Sources said that approval has been granted by the Statex board of directors for the consolidation of activities between the two regional cooperatives and that further procedures will depend on action to be taken shortly by the Felco management.

What appeared to be an introduction to the merger was an announcement by Wilbur M. Jenny, Statex manager, in the June Statex Mirror that Statex was entering the feed business with the introduction of the Felco feed program in Nebraska.

"Felco will provide the specialty sales assistance and advertising, Statex will bill the accounts and assist in bringing the story to cooperatives where an improved feed program is needed," said Jenny.

Jenny explained that Felco now furnishes 17% of the total feed sold in Iowa, and that by joining hands with Statex the two companies could build strong, service-oriented supply programs.

In a meeting called by Consumers Cooperative Association of Kansas City, Mo., in Lincoln Thursday a unanimous vote indicated approval of the merger by an estimated 500 local cooperative directors and officials. They asked that if Statex and Felco merged that they meet with CCA to discuss a merger of the three under a new combined cooperative in the midwest.

There was no promise from Statex officials that the resolution would be honored.

Meeting Sunday To Plan Election Bid By Kuhlman

A meeting will be held here Sunday to lay the groundwork for the 1966 gubernatorial bid of H. E. Kuhlmann of Grand Island, chairman of the Nebraska Liberty Amendment Committee, it was announced Friday.

Means of furthering the cause of the Liberty Amendment also will be discussed.

The Legislature in February rejected a Liberty Amendment resolution, memorializing Congress to press for a constitutional amendment to abolish a host of federal activities, including the personal income tax. However, the state Liberty Amendment committee, led by Kuhlmann, has pledged to continue its struggle and Kuhlmann recently announced his candidacy for governor.

Sunday's meeting will begin with a luncheon at the Lincoln Hotel, followed by a business session.

Sen. Pedersen Asks ADC Study

Omaha Sen. Henry F. Pedersen Jr. Friday proposed an interim study of programs of aid to dependent children.

The resolutiin, No. 59, was referred to the executive board of the Legislative Council for recommendation.

The Legislature earlier killed a bill, LB7545, which would have increased payments under the program.

Pedersen's resolution recalled that during the debate, there was discussion of such factors as inequities of recipients, sufficiency of monthly payments and problems of parental rehabilitation.

Pedersen proposed that the study cover such aspects as sound legislative policies and management practices, and an equitable basis for determining eligible recipients.
